LEER

THE University community was saddened in the summer of 1956 by the death of a most popular and prominent member—Dean Lanier W. Pratt.

After a lingering illness, Dean Pratt passed away June 4, 1956, leaving to the University the memory of high ideals coupled with warm friendship and subtle humor.

Dean Pratt received his Bachelor of Arts degree Cum Laude from Davidson College in 1934. In 1936 he entered the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at Duke, earning his Master of Arts degree in French. After a brief absence, he returned in 1940 to begin building a life which centered about the University until his death. World War II and the Korean conflict brought brief interruptions in his educational career with active duty in the United States Naval Reserve.

His second military assignment ended in 1952, and he resumed duties as instructor of French in the Romance Languages Department. In addition, he became Assistant Dean of Trinity College. An active Durham citizen as well as a valuable part of the University, he was an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church.

Dean Pratt's personality pervaded the life of undergraduates, bringing aid and counsel born of religious principles and realistic understanding. As dean of freshmen and sophomores, he had the particular task of launching Duke men on their college careers. He possessed a rare talent in human relations that insured success. Official status left him unaffected, and his keen wit transformed business into pleasure. Retaining his teaching activities along with his administrative position, he carried the same qualities into the classroom. Moulding lives and furthering knowledge were his life works.

He shall not soon be forgotten, for too many tributes to his ability remain; tributes not of words but of noble thoughts.

To Dean Lanier W. Pratt the student body gratefully dedicates the nineteen hundred and fifty-seven CHANTICLEER.

THE PRESIDENT

LECTED President of the University in November, 1948 and inaugurated eleven months later, Dr. A. Hollis Edens has since worked diligently to raise Duke's educational standards and to improve its facilities.

President Edens graduated from Emory University where he earned his B.Ph. and M.A. degrees. He completed his Ph.D. degree at Harvard. He has received LL.D. degrees from Davidson, the University of North Carolina, Wake Forest, Emory, Roanoke, and the American University. In 1956, President Eisenhower appointed President Edens to the President's Committee on Education Beyond the High School. President Edens serves on the Committee on the Utilization of Teaching Resources, which is sponsored by the Ford Foundation. He is presently vice-chairman of the U.S. Advisory Commission on Educational Exchange. A former president of the National Commission on Accrediting, he is now a member of that body's executive committee. Although he travels thousands of miles yearly spearheading the University's development campaign, President Edens still maintains a close contact with the student body. The door to his office is always open to all students desiring to talk with him.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The management of the financial affairs of Duke University is a large and difficult job. This task is ably carried out by a group of well-qualified men, the Board of Trustees. Among other duties, the Board confirms the selection of deans, issues the diplomas, and approves such activities as the erection of new buildings. Norman A. Coeke has served as chairman of the Board since 1954.

ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

Homecomings, reunions, class organizations and local alumni associations are all activities which are directed and supported by the Alumni Department of Duke University. At the head of this service organization are Charles Dukes, director, and Anne Garrard, Assistant Director. The Department not only keeps former students in contact with their school by publications such as the Alumni Register, a magazine published ten times a year, and the Alumni News, but it also compiles a complete personal record of every student who attends Duke from the time he enrolls until he dies. The Department established, in 1946, the Duke University National Council, whose purpose it is to institute a program to inform alumni and friends of the University of the needs of the institution and to institute a program of annual donations by alumni and friends.

In every dormitory on East Campus there lives a House Counselor who serves as a source of personal aid for the Woman's College students. Without imposition, these persons are eager to discuss in confidence any problems or opinions felt by the girls. In connection with House Council, they serve in an advisory capacity in regard to house actions and responsibilities. Student organizations also receive the benefit of their advisory ability. Through professional training in counseling and guidance and a sincere interest in the students, the counselors are able to contribute to the general happiness and growing maturity of every girl. They will be a great assistance in formulating the policies of the new dormitory next year.

The classes on East and West Campuses operate as separate units, although there is much co-operation between the classes on each campus.

As their chief project, the Senior class jointly sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance in the fall. The traditional tree was presented to the University on Founder's Day, and the principle Senior gift was given by the graduating class in the spring.

The Junior classes have worked separately to raise funds. For their projects, the women have had car-washes and a bake sale. The Junior men sponsored a talent show second semester.

Plans for the Sophomore class's joint project, Dink-Bow Day, were upset by rain, but in the spring the Sophomore women carried out plans for a Saturday afternoon Jazz Concert.

The Freshman classes sponsored a "Sweater Swing" at the end of first semester. The spring projects of the Freshman women were monthly "Work Weeks" to raise money.

Many of the class projects are sponsored in order to raise money for class activities, service projects, and the gifts which the Senior class leaves to the University. Working together on these activities adds much to class unity and enthusiasm.

NURSES' ACTIVITIES

Nurse's Judicial Board: (from 1 to r) Borchardt, Finn, Smith, Fennell, Raught, Tham, Edens, Chairman, Lindgren, Bedell, Martin, Potter, Drake.

Because the nursing school is completely self-governed, members of the Honor Council, Executive Council, and Judicial Board are kept busy with many meetings in addition to their usual school curriculum. Dean Jacobansky, believing in a progressive school, encourages student government and participation in activities, making for a better prepared and more mature student. The Student Government Association is constantly striving to meet the needs of the ever growing and changing student body of the nursing school. The Honor Council with the aid of its advisors is responsible for trying serious cases, having the power of expulsion. The Executive Council, composed of the officers of Hanes House and the chairmen of the various standing committees, sets up rules and standards for the house.

Besides the responsibility of making rules and regulations for the school, studying, and caring for patients, the Duke nurse has campus obligations and a need for social life. Somewhere they find time to include in their schedules dating, concerts, campus socials, and dormitory parties, activities which fill four well-rounded years.

Nurse's Honor Council: (from 1 to r) Finn, Ramey, McHard, Campbell, standing; Wilkinson, Sticht, Tham, Chr.; Engd, Mason, Ramusscr, standing; Bransford, Anthony, Deichmann.

HOSPITAL LIFE

Student nurse shows proper way to hold a new born baby.

Young patient is given friendly help by student nurse.

An anesthetist prepares a patient for operation.

Nurses have a practice session with "Sally Chase."

The nurses of Hanes House make fudge for their dates.

The wide-eyed, enthusiastic freshman, living with her classmates in the Annex, spends most of her time adjusting to a nurse's schedule, while she looks forward to the day when she can wear a uniform and put her knowledge into practice. However, even after concentrated practice on "Sally Chase," the Sophomore nurse, answering the patient's call, forgets her role and says, "Wait, let me get a nurse!" Leaving the orientation classes, the anatomy labs, and closely supervised ward practice behind, the uniform becomes the easiest dress to don, and the student becomes just a little more confident, for there are new skills to master and a generous supply of classes to keep her busy.

Special services beginning in the Junior year scatter friends to various sections of the hospital. Roommates find it difficult to spend much time together because of conflicting working hours, and "getting the gang together" becomes a real treat. At last, the Senior year arrives, bringing charge duty and night duty, the end of classes, and long hours spent in talking about graduation and wondering "What do we do next year?"

Organizations

As seated around the table from left to right, the members of the Men's Student Government Association Cabinet are: B. Grubbs, R. Dusek, D. Tolmich, P. Years, B. Baker, N. Williams, F. Fisher, D. Duffey, P. Patton, S. Hammer, W. Wright, G. Bryant, J. Vaughn.

The Men's Student Government Association completed a broad program of activities for 1956-57. The projects they promoted included a revision of the election laws for student offices and a new pre-registration system, which prevented the long lines that have occurred in the past during that time. The members also introduced a new system of legislative committees into the organization of the association. These committees, composed of members of the legislature of M.S.G.A., initiate all legislation, replacing the cabinet in this function.

Not neglecting material improvements of campus facilities, the M.S.G.A. improved car-washing sites, installed a bench for riders, and was instrumental in getting the steps built behind the independent dorms.

The Association passed resolutions for paving the parking lots and for installing telephones in the fraternity sections and then followed these actions through to their completion.

In carrying out the activities of the year, the group constantly kept the high example of the purpose and objectives of M.S.G.A. foremost in their minds. "To promote the best interests of Duke University; to advance the welfare of the individual students; to regulate matters pertaining to the conduct of male undergraduates; to co-operate with the administration relations." These are the goals the Men's Student Government Association has strived to achieve.

Organized similarly to our national government. M.S.G.A. is composed of a legislative, judicial, and an executive branch.

The Legislature, composed of campus representatives, meets to consider all matters of campus-wide interest. Power to regulate, supervise, charter, and determine the status of all men's organizations is vested in this body. The Legislature also has power to enact any necessary rules or regulations in order to carry on its program effectively.

EDGAR FISHER
President of Men's Student Government

The judiciary balance of M.S.G.A. is provided by Judicial Board, which also serves as the campus disciplinary organ.

The Executive Branch, headed by the Association president, carries on the administrative duties and enforces legislative policy. The president has a cabinet and a sub-cabinet which aid him in this task.

The Men's Student Government Association is an effectively operating body through the interaction of these branches.

Meeting once a week, the legislature of the Men's Student Government Association attempts to establish the standards of Duke Community.

The Woman's Student Government Association, under the leadership of President Polly Price, this year, as in the past, endeavored to realize student needs, to direct activities, and to legislate for the student body of the Woman's College. One of the busiest of the Duke organizations, W.S.G.A. promotes Woman's College activities and strives to make the women's voice heard in campus policy.

The National Student Association, which W.S.G.A. rejoined in order to be a part of the nation-wide student audience, functioned effectively on campus through the efforts of an N.S.A. co-ordinator and committee. By a constitutional amendment the coordinator was made the Association parliamentarian.

W.S.G.A. was instrumental in organizing and contributing to the Hungarian Student Relief Drive that will bring two Hungarian students to the Duke campus next fall.

Working through the East Campus representative on the Traffic Commission, W.S.G.A. obtained five additional parking places for women students on West.

W.S.G.A. and Judicial Board held meetings with the Deans, interested faculty members, and West Campus representatives to investigate and to revitalize the drinking rule, the honor code, and academic standards. As a result of the investigation, W.S.G.A. passed a resolution which would create a standardized classroom policy by maintaining a classroom honor system or a stricter proctor system.

Composed of the entire student body of the Woman's College, the Association holds monthly meetings at which many matters of importance and concern are brought up and discussed. Much of W.S.G.A.'s work is done through a council and auxiliaries, which play a large part in administrative activities.

Polly Price, President
Women's Student Government

An executive council was made an effective addition to the Council's program by drawing up assembly agendas, doing investigatory work, and making recommendations to the Council.

W.S.G.A. auxiliaries carry on many activities and programs that are vital to the operation of the Woman's College.

A large part of the Council's activities were concentrated in planning for the opening of the new dormitory, Gilbert-Addoms, and the integration of the increased number of women students next fall.

Bill McLain
Chairman of Men's Judicial Board

Upholding the rules and regulations of Duke University, the Men's Judicial Board handles cases of misconduct and violation involving undergraduates in Trinity College and the College of Engineering.

The Board, composed of three juniors and six seniors, is appointed by the president of M.S.G.A. and is approved by the Legislature.

Cases are submitted to the Board by the Deans office, the Maintenance Department, or the Campus Police. An investigation of the case is made and a hearing held. If the defendant is found guilty, the Board's decision and the proposed penalty are reviewed by the Deans.

Judicial Board also handled questions of constitutionality, when requested to do so, of any bill passed by the Legislature, and reviews decisions of I.F.C., Court of Appeals, and Traffic Court.

Functioning to serve and guide Duke women, Judicial Board's purposes are to clarify regulations, deal with rule violation, and honor code offenses, recommend changes in regulations and the W.S.G.A. constitution, and serve as a court of appeals in cases arising from Traffic Court and the House Judicial Committees. These committees were now supervised by Judicial Board to deal with minor rule violations. Beyond these duties, its ideals and objectives include insuring harmony among students and working for closer co-operation between the administration and the student body.

The Board is composed of an elected representative from each of the dormitories and the Town Girls. The president of the Women's Student Government Association is also in attendance as an ex-officio member.

Aiding each freshman individually in his adjustment to college life at Duke is the chief purpose of the Men's Freshman Advisory Council.

Each Council member is assigned a group of six or seven freshmen to advise, and assumes the responsibility of checking with the freshmen in their dormitories regularly, and of helping them with the many problems that arise in the first few months of college. F.A.C. men provide an invaluable aid to the freshmen in solving problems ranging from learning how to press trousers to getting dates on East campus. They provide helpful hints on extra-curricular activities, and assume the hopeless task of encouraging the freshmen to keep abreast in college studies. By providing constant and mature guidance for each freshman, the F.A.C. helps them adjust to Duke life without awkward blunders.

The rewards of this counselling are shown by the large number of men that desire to help the freshmen by becoming F.A.C. men. Next year the F.A.C. will fall under the supervision of the Y.M.C.A.

Dot Felson, Chairman
Women's Freshman Advisory Council

Regarded as mother, sister, pal, teacher, guide, and an endless source of information, the F.A.C. greatly influences and aids the freshmen's adjustment to, enjoyment of, and participation in college life.

The Women's Freshman Advisory Council is one of Duke's most indispensable organizations and operates as an auxiliary of W.S.G.A.

During Orientation Week these forty junior and senior women give individual assistance to the freshmen girls in orientating them to the rules, customs, traditions, and life at Duke. Throughout the year the F.A.C. helps and assists the freshmen to make those scholastic and social adjustments which will provide for a happy and profitable college career.

Appointed the spring before they are to serve, the F.A.C.'s are chosen for having displayed outstanding qualities of leadership, service, character, scholarship, and ability to get along with others. A training program in the spring on the theory of counseling acquaints the F.A.C. with her work.

Mike Jackson
Chairman of the Student Union Board of Governors

Stimulating, promoting, and developing the social, recreational, cultural, educational, and spiritual activities of the student body, the Student Union has become one of the most vital and active of the Duke organizations. Student Union provides a center for the activities of all students and offers a balanced program which meets the interests and needs of everyone.

A Board of Governors, composed of campus representatives and the director, serves as the Union's administrative body. Various committees carry on the Union's activities.

Included in the Union's program were art and photography exhibits, "Candlelite Cabarets," bridge tournaments, and a performance by the Canadian Players with the Student Forum. A policy of bringing nationally known persons to the campus was instituted and, as a result, students heard and met Bruce Catton, Dr. Carl Gruber, William Douglas, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Walter Kronkite, Senator Hubert Humphrey, Harold Stassen and James Hagerly.

Noted Historian Will Durant was greeted by Bill Griffith and Buddy Beecham on behalf of the Student Union.

Sylvia Mathus
Chairman, Student Co-ordinate Board

Created to respond to the attitudes and needs of the Duke campus, the Student Co-ordinate Board provides a medium for discussing and solving problems concerning various groups around campus. Its purposes are to intermediate and promote harmony between students, faculty, and administration; and to handle all suggestions from these sources on general welfare and improvement of the Woman's College.

Members, representing the dorms, classes, and Town Girls, are chosen for having displayed a sense of responsibility, interest, and dependability. This year the Board was busy with many and various projects, which included a tutoring system, homemaking course, commercial course, and several coed dinners. In addition the board published a pamphlet to aid rush orientation and reorganized the registration system. Co-ordinate Board was instrumental in formulating and carrying out plans for the opening of the new women's dormitory next fall.

STUDENT FORUM

Chairman, Student Forum

Each year the Student Forum presents a full schedule of varied and entertaining programs designed to cultivate artistic appreciation and interest among the members of the university community. These programs, which feature famous people and groups from all over the world, are stimulating as well as enjoyable to collegiate minds, even to those who are skeptical about the value of "high brow" entertainment.

The highlight of this year's Student Forum schedule of activities was their Arts Week concerned with Japanese culture. The events of this week included outstanding lecturers and a woodcut exhibit. The committee also brought to the Duke Campus the Jose Limon dance Company and the Canadian Players' presentation of "Peer Gynt." A lecture by Caroline Gordon Tate and an informal political debate by two Duke professors from the Department of Political Science, Dr. Ellis and Dr. Leach, completed the program led by chairman Claire Marcom.

SOCIAL STANDARDS

The Social Standards Committee, an auxiliary of W.S.G.A., attempts to establish a high tone of social behavior on East Campus. At the beginning of each year, Social Standards works with the Freshman Advisory Council in giving freshmen advice and guidance. The Committee's many projects included revising the rules and constitution, promoting band concerts on East Campus, publishing a pictorial calendar of Duke, and sending incoming freshmen a pamphlet, Design for a Duchess, concerning regulations and hints about manners, dress, and customs on East.

Carl Lassiter
Chairman of Social Standards

Two traditional events sponsored by Social Standards are the Coed Balls. These dances feature, in the fall, the presentation of the CHRYSLER beauty court, and, in the spring, the coronation of the May Queen.

The Social Standards Committee, 1 to 5, 1st 1952: K. Barringer, K. Ronson, R. Metts, G. Lassiter, B. Wilson, C. Groth, D. Hewitt. 2nd 1952: B. Bickett, S. Motley, M. Rinehart, J. Medley, H. Reed, J. Gerard, G. Parlow, J. DeRenzor. 3rd 1952: P. Brueggmann, M. I. Skridge, M. Newton, J. McLawhorn, C. Humphrey, H. Goebel, C. Brown, K. Lupton, T. Booth, J. Rich, C. Cooper.

Representatives from all the fraternities and dormitories on West form a body which meets regularly as the Legislature of M.S.G.A. The Traditions Board—W. Penny, R. Morgan, N. Williams, D. Duffey, K. Albrecht, R. Phillips, R. Barnes, W. Wright.

TRADITIONS BOARD In order to achieve its objectives of acquainting and developing an awareness of Duke traditions and history among the students, the Traditions Board distributes dinks to the freshmen and encourages the learning of school songs, customs, and facts about campus organizations.

Increased efforts were made by the Board this year to get upperclassmen interested in supporting the traditions program. Under the leadership of Ken Albrecht, the Board also gave freshmen the traditions test and sponsored a Dink-Bow Day with East campus.

COURT OF APPEALS The Court of Appeals, formerly the Court of Claims, was established as a subsidiary to the Judicial Board to hear appeals involving student violations of University traffic regulations, student liabilities for damage to the dormitory property, and delinquency in the payment of Men's Student Government Association fees.

The Court is now in its second year of successful operation and has proved itself to be a valuable addition to the judicial system of student government. Meeting weekly to review cases, the Court is usually able to reach a fair decision on most of the appeals without the appearance of the defendant. The Court has been a worthy asset to the student body and should continue to be a vital part of Duke's judicial system.

Members of the Court of Appeals are the following—Jim Jackson, Keith Davis, Joe Grills, Steve Young, and Mike Tempko.

CAMPUS CHEST

Last Committee members: 1 r: Fernando, Springston, Whiting, 2 r: Barrington, Welt, Hill, Penfield, Stanback.

Campus Chest was organized as a single charity drive at Duke from which money is distributed to charities throughout the campus, state, and world.

On East Campus this year, pledges were collected November 5 through 7, following a publicity drive which included presentation of Campus Chest in W.S.G.A. Assembly and a banquet in the Union for Campus Chest representatives.

January 14 through 16, money was collected on West Campus in a drive headed by Dick Jacobs. The chairman of Campus Chest on East was Bun Springston and the advisor was Miss Westphal. Campus Chest funds this year went to the Alice M. Baldwin Scholarship Fund, World University Service, Foreign Student Fund, Y.W.C.A. work at Edgemont, the North Carolina Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the Student Emergency Fund, the Durham Needlework Guild, and several other worth-while organizations.

Alpha Phi Omega, one of the newer organizations on the Duke campus, is a national service fraternity whose goals are to develop friendship, leadership, and fellowship among Scout-trained men and to promote service to the student body, faculty, community, and nation.

In its third year of activity on the Duke campus, the chapter's annual program included another successful Student Furnishing Sale and continued its orientation program designed to help foreign graduate students. In addition, the fraternity rendered services to the community by helping at the Methodist Retirement Home, the Durham Children's Museum, and the Child Guidance Clinic.

While Alpha Phi Omega is still one of the youngest organizations in the Duke Community, it is rapidly becoming recognized as one which serves the campus and the campus sponsored programs most effectively.

Although it is one of the oldest organizations on the Duke campus, the Young Men's Christian Association remains one of the most active. Many and varied are the services provided by this Christian fellowship.

During Orientation Week, "Y" men help the freshmen adjust to campus life by effectively introducing and acquainting them with the customs and life on Duke campus. To help transfer students in their adjustment to the Duke campus, the Y.M.C.A. sponsors the Transfer Advisory Council.

to attend classes together and to participate in special week-end events.

Besides aiding Edgemont and Wright's Refuge, "Y" members conduct campus tours, visit hospitalized students, and keep the bulletin board up to date.

The "Y" worship committee sponsors study groups, vesper services, retreats, and the Sunday "Candlelight" Service.

A Freshman Dance, "Twilight Time," and a Duke Ambassador's Concert are among the "Y" sponsored campus social events. Publishing the Freshman Handbook, the Student Directory, and the Y.M.C.A. Annual Report are also included in the "Y's" projects.

This year the Y.M.C.A. proposed a plan for the building of a retreat center which would be used by the denominational groups, the "Y's," and other organizations which plan retreats. Such a center would eliminate transportation problems and would provide camp facilities for retreats.

Y.M.C.A. cabinet members represented the Duke association at conferences held this year in Georgia, Virginia, and North Carolina.

During the first day of Y.M.C.A. sponsored Orientation Week, "Y" Men issue "dinks" of naturally the wrong size to the freshmen.

President of Young Women's Christian Association

Y . W . C . A .

As old as the Woman's College and with a membership of approximately 96% of the coeds, the Duke University Young Women's Christian Association's extensive program serves all aspects of college life.

The "Y's" numerous projects and services are planned and performed through various committees. A Social Service Committee recruits and trains volunteer workers for such agencies as Edgemont, Durham Day Nursery, and Duke Hospital. A campus carol sing, vesper services, Lenten booklets, and inter-faith discussions are projects of the "Y's" Worship Committee. A Projects Committee held an annual clothing drive and built a nativity scene for the Christmas display. "Y" sponsored projects included a Toy Workshop, Mother-Daughter Week End, the formation of a freshman "Y," and the publication of a Meet-Your-Faculty booklet and "Y" Newsletters. A Race Relations Committee and a Senior Seminar, to discuss seniors' problems, were added to the "Y" cabinet.

The active freshman "Y" carried out numerous projects of their own, a major one being the creation of a summer job file, which contained information about employment in many fields. This group also distributed current news bulletins to the East dorms.

Delegates from the Duke "Y" attended regional and area conferences, leadership training schools, and a national "Y" U.N. seminar.

Ably led by president Carol Herndon, Freshman "Y" president Mary Lu Wright, and advised by Miss Barbara Benedict, the "Y's" were successful in carrying out the purpose and objectives of the national Y.W.C.A.

Just one of the many events sponsored annually by the Y.W.C.A. is this Spring Banquet which was held in the East Campus Union.

The University Religious Council consists of the presidents of all student religious organizations, elected student representatives, faculty and administration members, the Dean of the Chapel, the Associate Directors of Religious Life, and the Chaplain of the University.

The University Religious Council is the student-faculty group whose concern is the total religious life of the University including the University Chapel and its various activities.

Through its various committees the Council is related to every aspect of the religious program: arranging for the Chapel communion services, ushering and collecting, and inviting guest preachers for the worship services. Events such as the International Tea and the Interfaith Dinner are sponsored by the Council to stimulate fellowship activity among students of diverse religious, racial, and national backgrounds. The Council provides the University with a varied opportunity for religious fellowship, growth, and service.

When Mr. Duke established the University Chapel, he did so with the thought in mind that the chapel would become the heart and hub of all university life. The heart in that it would provide a pulse that would give new and wholesome life to the campus at large; and the hub, in that around the Duke University Church, all religious activities would revolve.

The support of Edgemont Community Center and the sponsorship of Religious Emphasis Week are but two of its major activities. Moreover, the Church Board goes to great lengths to see to it that only the best speakers are engaged to preach in the chapel on Sunday mornings, one of the most popular being the dean of the chapel himself, Dr. James T. Cleland. Often tabbed the Peter Marshall of the Duke community, Dr. Cleland's sermons have had a tremendous impact upon student thinking as has the friendly advice of Chaplain Floyd.

"Exploration-Faith" was the theme of Religious Emphasis Week, held February 17-20, which featured Dr. B. David Napier, associate professor of Old Testament at Yale and Duke's Dr. Waldo Beach and Dr. James Cleland.

The Week's program included panel discussions, luncheons, vesper services, private conferences, and closed with a communion service. This inspirational week provides an opportunity for students as well as faculty members to re-examine and strengthen their faith.

RELIGIOUS GROUPS

An important part of Duke's religious life revolves around the many denominational groups that enables members of the university community to remain closely identified with the church of their choice. These groups hold discussions, religious services, and social events which provide fellowship and stimulate faith.

Presbyterian Westminster Fellowship

The Duke Baptist Student Union, one of the largest of the religious groups, holds worship services in local Baptist churches and sponsors interesting discussions at a weekly Baptist forum.

Through study groups and weekly services, the Hillel Society promotes Jewish culture and provides a closer relationship among Jewish students.

The Westminster Fellowship for Presbyterians provides a varied program of worship, and social functions. Study groups and vesper services, retreats, service activities at various hospitals, and bi-monthly supper meetings comprise the many activities of this group.

Serving as a local church group as well as a university religious organization, the Society of Friends holds worship services and social gatherings at their new meeting house. The Christian Science group holds weekly services which include testimonials by members of the congregation on the healing power of Christian Science.

Baptist Student Union

New

Interested primarily in guiding the Catholic student in developing his faith, the Newman Club provides discussions, interesting speakers, social activities, and communion breakfasts. Promoting the aims of the Lutheran Student Association of America, the Duke L.S.A.'s programs featured speakers, suppers, panel discussions, and worship services. They also met with other L.S.A.'s in the state and the Southeast for leadership training and Bible study.

United Student Fellowship

Society of Friends

Helping students develop a meaningful and intelligent faith, the Methodist Student Fellowship sponsors Sunday morning study classes and evening vespers. Spring and fall retreats held a few miles outside of Durham are highlights for Methodist students. Dr. Waldo Beach and Congressman C. B. David were featured speakers this year. Construction began in November on a Methodist Student Center off Myrtle Drive. ship. Every afternoon in the Memorial Chapel, there are student-led services of Evening Prayer. For the more concerned christians, the fellowship sponsored a three day school of prayer led by Father Lee Stephens. The scientific and modern approach to religion was provided for Unitarian students through speakers and panel discussions. The United Student Fellowship varied their program with worship services and social service projects. The Duke Christian Fellowship emphasized the Church's approach to the teachings of Jesus in their meetings every Friday night in the Woman's College Auditorium.

KAPPA CHI

Seeking to aid the pre-ministerial student through an extensive program of worship, fellowship, and service, Zeta chapter of national Kappa Chi helps him gain a greater understanding of the work of the Christian ministry. The Chapter also seeks to achieve a closer co-operation among the various denominations of the Christian Church.

Organized in 1943, Zeta chapter has continued to grow and has become an integral part of the university life of many students who are preparing for a life of Christian service.

Kappa Chi provides for its members excellent programs by many of the outstanding men in the field of religion. Besides sponsoring a vesper service each Thursday evening and a devotional each Tuesday morning in the Chapel, the Fellowship contributes its service to Edgemont and the Veterans Hospital.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

Editors Sally McIntosh of the Chronicle and Buck Talman of the Cross-section pose with board chairman Herbert Herring.

Publications Board is a student-faculty organization which protects and assists student publications, determining policies, regulating commercial advertising and salaries, and selecting personnel. The voting members of the Board include four members of the Woman's College, four members of Trinity College, two members of the College of Engineering, and five faculty and administration members. The editors and business managers of student publications and representatives of W.S.G.A. and M.S.G.A. are ex-officio, non-voting members. Dean Herring was chairman of the Board this year, and Marilyn Lyon was secretary.

For the university student who enjoys creative writing, layout work of yearbooks and magazines, photography, and the development of thoughts and ideas, Publications Row can serve as his medium of self expression. With the help of banging typewriters and student voices echoing up and down Pub Row, the "Tower of Campus Thought and Action," enabled student opinion to be heard. The yearbook staff produced a "record of the year at Duke as seen through the eyes of a camera." For the Archive, the Peer, and the Duke Engineer, students wrote both light stories, and cultural articles. Playbills was also published by Bob Young and staff.

ARCHIVE

The Archive is a student literary magazine which presents student creative work in the arts, being the oldest magazine of this type in the South. It was originally published as a newsletter and later developed into a feature magazine. Gradually, however, it again became a fine arts publication with the appearance of the Chronicle and the Duke 'n' Duchess. Included in the magazine are student sketches as well as student stories and poems.

This year the Archive editor was Anne Nicholson and the Business Manager, Jim Wagenvoord.

The Fall issue of the Peer attempted to satisfy the campus desire for a modified humor-feature magazine. After a Pub Board meeting and a conference with the Administration, the Peer was reminded of its original purpose, that of being a feature magazine, and further, jokes were prohibited.

Cognizant that a great deal of the sales appeal of the Peer lay in the jokes, the staff and editors used many photographs, photo-stories and cartoons in an endeavor to keep the easy reading that the campus seemed to enjoy. The staff of the Peer has grown with the aid of many freshmen and boasts more contributors than ever before.

Organized for the purpose of publishing playbills for several campus organizations, the Playbill is one of the most widely-read Duke publications. Playbills were printed during the past year for the All-Star Concert Series, Duke Players productions, Hoof 'n' Horn, Student Forum presentations, and the Men's Glee Club concert. Bob Young, this year's editor, was assisted by Howard Rothfeder, business manager; Bud Siler, assistant editor; and Bob Kargon, assistant business manager. Though one of the smallest publications on Pub Row, the Playbill is of much service to the campus.

DUKENGINEER

The DukEngineer is a campus publication unique in several respects. Published by engineering students four times a year, it is designed to give them an opportunity to express themselves in a scientific manner. This publication is the only one which receives no financial aid from the University. The Engineering Publications Advisory Committee offers editorial suggestions to the DukEngineer, which first appeared in its present form in 1946 and has expanded each year. This year, the DukEngineer was edited by Pat Cogan, while George Bouse was Business Manager.

ENGINEER STUDENT COUNCIL

Ed Carey
President of the Engineer's Student Council

Guiding and governing the activities of engineering students is the main function of the Engineer's Student Council. By helping the faculty of the College of Engineering solve problems related to the students and by co-ordinating the class activities, the E.S.C. plays a vital role in the College.

Composed of class officers and representatives from the organizations in the College, the Engineers' Student Council supervises the Engineers' Show, the Engineers' Ball, and the Homecoming displays. The Council was instrumental in the organization of the Engineers' Guidance Council this year, which was created to advise and guide the freshmen engineers in their adjustment to the College.

The Duke chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers was established to help civil engineering students enrich their college courses by beginning professional contacts and associations so valuable to the practicing engineer. Through the wide variety of activities, discussions and featured speakers sponsored by A.S.C.E. the student more fully prepares himself to enter into the profession of civil engineering.

A.S.C.E. highlighted the year's activities by field trips to special interest areas. A spring picnic and banquet were added program features. Under the leadership of Pete Hoadley, the A.S.C.E. continued its purpose of helping the student become better acquainted with the profession.

Functioning to foster and cultivate those qualities which are not fully developed in the classroom, but are needed by the engineer, the Duke branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers serves to acquaint the student with the engineering world. The wide variety of activities and functions of the organization increases and strengthens the student's knowledge and comprehension of the engineering field, more fully prepares him to take his place in the profession, and gives recognition to his technical developments and ideas.

This year's program included field trips, lectures, demonstrations, an area A.I.E.E. meeting, and a senior banquet. One of the A.I.E.E.'s major contributions to the Duke campus is the Engineers' Show, which is held annually in March.

A.S.M.E.

Keeping its members informed of the latest advancements in the theory and practice of mechanical engineering and stimulating interest in mechanical projects within the engineering school are the main purposes of the Duke Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Monthly meetings of the A.S.M.E. feature speakers, motion pictures, and the reading of student papers which give the members of the society a more realistic view of their future profession. Field trips, planned by the society, for the mechanical engineering students to near by places of interest prove to be educational and broadened the student's concept of the field. The A.S.M.E. provides its members with a monthly publication, which keeps them informed as to the latest developments in mechanical engineering.

Officers of the A.S.M.E. are the following: H. Finol, D. Kempler, J. Neal, and P. Richer.

PRE-MED SOCIETY

The members of the Pre-Med Society meet together regularly to enjoy varied and interesting programs relating to their chosen profession.

The functions of the Pre-Med Society on the Duke campus are: to provide a means for students interested in making medicine their profession to acquire information concerning the requirements and standards of various Medical Schools, and to better integrate the Duke Medical School and undergraduate pre-medical students.

This year, the organization under the able leadership of Bob McTammany, tried to carry out these purposes in their bi-monthly meetings held in the Zoology Building.

One of the programs featured Drs.

Markee and Penrod of the Duke Medical School who set forth their ideas concerning the quality of undergraduates sought by the Medical Schools. Dr. Penrod was the sponsor of the group this year. A very worth-while function performed by the Pre-Med Society each year are the chest X-ray units brought to both East and West Campuses each spring. Any undergraduate, excluding freshmen, who is interested in medicine as a career, is eligible to become a member and participate in the varied programs and discussions in the field of medicine.

BENCH AND BAR

The Duke Bench and Bar Society was organized for the purpose of providing the types of programs which will give the undergraduate student an opportunity to decide if he will want to study law after his Duke graduation. Membership is open to any undergraduate student interested in the law profession. Three main types of programs were carried on this year: Speakers from the law profession, such as law professors, judges, and lawyers; movies such as those made at the Kefauver Investigations and the Nuremberg Trials; and Mock Trials put on by members of the Society and open to the public. Doctor Bradway of the Duke Law School Faculty is sponsor of the Bench and Bar Society and student officers for the past year were George Keithley, president; Joe Smith, vice-president; and Roger Embley, treasurer.

The many Bench and Bar members who enter law schools are evidence of this organization's success in carrying out its purpose and objectives.

Such an organization is invaluable to the undergraduate in deciding his life's career.

ENGINEERS' GUIDANCE COUNCIL

The newly created Engineers' Guidance Council is headed by Ralph Barnes, President, and Allen Mead, Secretary.

One of the newest organizations on the Duke campus, the Engineers' Guidance Council was formed early last fall by the Engineers' Student Council. By guiding the freshman engineers in their studies, by advising them concerning their choice of extra-curricular activities, and by helping them select a major from the three main fields of engineering, the Guidance Council helps the new students feel at home in the School of Engineering.

At bimonthly meetings the Council members discuss freshman problems and work out solutions that will meet the individual needs.

Chosen on the basis of scholastic ability and personality, the Engineers' Guidance Council is selected through interviews by the F.S.C.

The Council this year was headed by Ralph Barnes.

The Duke University Debate Council, encourages participation in inter-collegiate debates, discussion tournaments, and sponsors forensic activities and public debates on the campus.

Duke debaters this year participated in tournaments and debates at numerous colleges and universities along the East Coast from the University of Miami to West Point. A highlight was an international debate on the Duke campus with British students. The Council also participated in the A.C.C. tournament held in the spring at Wake Forest.

The University can be proud of its debate teams, which have consistently won more than half the debates at tournaments, and consequently enjoy an excellent debating reputation in this area.

HOOF 'N' HORN

Producing completely student written and directed musical comedies, Hoof 'n' Horn is now in its 20th year of activity on the Duke campus. Originating in 1936, this well known organization has produced outstanding stage shows that in recent years have become a highlight of Joe College Week-ends.

This year's show, "I'm Emir Here," took place in a small Eastern Mediterranean kingdom in the year 957. Unusual and amusing incidents arose when all the characters were transformed to present day Lebanon.

To be eligible for membership in Hoof 'n' Horn one must participate actively in one show. The Club's executive council chooses the director, producer, and the manuscript for the year's show.

Ruth Davis served as Hoof 'n' Horn president and also as director of this year's show.

Arlick Brockwell, star of the 1957 Hoof 'n' Horn production "I'm Emir Here" sings one of the songs which highlighted the show.

Talented Polly Price found time in her busy schedule as President of W.S.G.A. to play the female lead in the "Hoo!" 'n' Horn show which ran for two nights as part of a fabulous Joe College Week End.

The singing and dancing of this glamorous chorus line helped make "I'm Inr Here" one of the best musicals the organization has produced.

DUKE PLAYERS

Duke Players, organized since 1931, acts as a producing agent for the university community and fosters an understanding of, and high standards for the theater arts in the college.

Talent is the basis for selecting cast members, but anyone interested may work behind the scenes. After working fifty hours on productions during a season and attending a majority of the Players general meetings, a student may become a member of the organization.

Sponsored by the English department of the university and headed by president Fred Regennold, the Players presented readings of Cocteau's The Infernal Machine, Stein's Yes is For a Very Young Man, and a porcelain production of Kurnitz's Reclining Figure. An arena production of Strindberg's The Father, Shaw's Misalliance, and student directed laboratory productions of one-act plays completed a full year for the Players.

Ron Foyert and Marie Emsert starred in "The Father" which was given in Branson.

These members of the Duke Players work hard throughout the year, preparing and presenting plays and readings for our enjoyment.

SHOE 'N' SLIPPER

During Shoe 'n' Slipper and Joe College week-ends, Duke Students enjoyed two of the nation's top bands. After much planning by president, Buzz Browne, and the Shoe 'n' Slipper Club, Richard Maltby and his orchestra entertained the campus during the Fall week-end, and Woody Herman and his band provided the rhythm for the Spring festivities.

Since its organization in 1948, the Shoe 'n' Slipper Club has consistently brought outstanding concert and dance bands to the Duke campus for its two "big week-ends."

NURSES EDUCATION CLUB

Organized to create a friendly relationship among graduate-nurse students, and between the members and other students of Duke, the Nursing Education Club's activities are designed to prepare qualified graduate nurses for administrative, teaching, and supervisory positions in nursing schools and service agencies.

Led by Martha Davis, the Club's program included business discussions, a Christmas party and dance, a spring picnic, and dinner meetings with guest speakers, among whom were Otto Iltunada, who spoke on family life in the Philippines, and Miss Thelma Inglis, who showed slides of Europe.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Under the direction of Paul Young, the Men's Glee Club enjoyed another year crowded with campus and tour appearances. Tryouts for the club were held early in the fall, and twice weekly rehearsals continued throughout the year.

The Glee Club's triple quartet appeared on campus several times during Orientation Week and Dad's Week End. In February the club gave its first concert of the year on the Duke campus. During Spring Vacation, the men of the Glee Club enjoyed a tour to numerous cities in Florida and throughout the South. In April the group traveled to Washington and Philadelphia for several concerts. The year's activities were climaxed in May with another Duke concert, showing the campus why they have achieved national acclaim.

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB

The Women's Glee Club, under the able direction of Dr. Paul Young, provides an opportunity for Woman's College students who are interested in developing their musical talent in that field to participate collectively in various concerts on the Duke campus. Any Woman's College student is eligible for membership in the organization if she passes the auditions given by the director in the fall. The Woman's Glee Club not only gives a concert in early April, but also sponsors a formal dance for both Glee Clubs after the men's spring concert.

The Glee Club participates in activities such as singing at chapel services and the Veteran's Hospital, and serving as ushers for the Concert Series. The Triple Trio sings at various organizations' meetings in Durham.

... with its extensive musical training. Women's Glee Club members are prepared for entry into chapel choir.

Selected from members of the Men's Glee Club and the Women's Glee Club, the Duke University Chapel Choir is composed of approximately 200 hundred voices.

Under the direction of Professor Paul Young, the choir instilled in Chapel congregations a new sense of musical appreciation of choral music. The large repertoire of sacred music which they sang at Sunday morning Chapel services added much to these impressive and inspirational services.

Highlights of the year for the choir were special performances of Handel's "Messiah" at Christmas time and Mendelsohn's "Elijah" in the spring, both of which received much praise and appreciation in the university community.

Noted far and wide for its outstanding musical quality and excellent direction, the Chapel Choir provides an opportunity for students to serve the University as well as to participate in religious services and to learn and appreciate noted sacred music.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Chapel Choir, which includes members of both the men's and women's glee clubs, takes part in the Chapel Service every Sunday, under the direction of Dr. Young.

Students with musical talent find opportunity to play with the Duke Symphony which gives several concerts during the school year.

Under the direction of Mr. Allan H. Bone, the Duke Symphony Orchestra completed another successful year of concerts and performances on the Duke campus. Composed of approximately 65 pieces, the orchestra includes members of the student body, faculty, and townspeople from Durham, Raleigh, and Chapel Hill. These members are chosen in auditions and tryouts held early in the fall.

An outstanding performance of the Orchestra was given in January which featured Anshel Brusilow, violinist and assistant concert master of the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra.

The spring concert in April featured Lorne Munroe, violin-celloist and soloist with the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Throughout the year, the Department of Aesthetics, Art, and Music sponsors recitals by various members of the student body and faculty for the enjoyment of the College community.

DUKE SYMPHONY

AMBASSADORS

Bill Pape
Band Leader, Duke Ambassadors

Ambassadors in reality as well as in name, this prominent group of Duke musicians was enthusiastically received in appearances in the Azores and Bermuda last summer.

But these overseas appearances comprise only a fragment of the Ambassadors' two decade history on the bandstand for major Duke dances. Spring lawn concerts and annual special appearances by the band have become a campus tradition. Thousands of students at other colleges and universities have danced to the Ambassadors' original arrangements. This year the musicians were selected for the second time to play for the North Carolina Governor's Ball.

Led by Bill Pape, the Ambassadors this spring wound up one of their most successful seasons and are now looking forward to a third entertainment mission overseas. It's a sure bet that wherever they appear, the Ambassadors will give out with the same top quality music that has established their reputation as one of the nation's outstanding college dance bands.

One of Duke's best known organizations is the Duke Ambassadors which plays for numerous dances both on the Duke campus and away.

The Duke Concert Band gives concerts for the university community and makes a tour in the spring to various towns in the state.

CONCERT BAND

Paul R. Bryan
Director of the Concert Band

Emphasizing a variety of music and featuring in their programs classical, semi-classical, and novelty numbers, the Duke University Concert Band presents outstanding musical concerts on campus. Directed by Dr. Paul Bryan, the Band of approximately 70 members performs at lawn concerts and in concerts on both campuses.

A highlight among these performances featured David Bar-Illan, Israeli pianist, as soloist in a concert in April.

During the Band's third annual spring tour from March 19-22, the group performed in five North Carolina cities.

Fifteen members of the Duke Band were honored in January by being chosen to play in an All State Collegiate Band.

Special performances of the Concert Band included concerts on Dad's Week End, High School Music Day, and at commencement.

Working closely with the cheerleaders, the Pep Board was headed by co-chairmen Bob Stuart and Peggy Paul this year. Composed of representatives from each freshman house, fraternity, and East Campus dormitory, the Board was again instrumental in leading and encouraging support and enthusiasm for the fighting blue and white.

MARCHING BAND

Adding color, spirit, and song to all Duke home football games, the Marching Band is a traditional sight on the field. The striking blue and white uniforms and the band's snappy stepping herald the beginning of every game.

During halftime the Band's clever and original routines provide delightful entertainment for the crowd.

One of Duke's most enthusiastic supporters, the Band leads "Fight Songs" in the cheering section and at pep rallies.

Led by Mr. Paul Bryan, the Band rehearses three times weekly in preparation for their performances. Members are chosen in fall tryouts for their outstanding musical ability. The Band's activities also included trips to and performances at several away football games.

A banquet and dinner-dance concluded the year's activities for this well-known and outstanding musical organization.

RADIO COUNCIL

The Radio Council of Duke University supervises, maintains, and handles all broad governing powers of WDBS. This group supervises the election of officers for WDBS, the appropriation of funds for large expenditures, and the formulation of station policy toward major issues.

The Radio Council is composed of members of both student body and faculty. Faculty members on the Council include an advisor appointed by Doctor Edens, the Dean of Men, the Dean of Women, and the Director of Student Activities. Student members of the Council include elected representatives from Trinity College, the College of Engineering, and the Woman's College, and appointed representatives from W.S.G.A. and M.S.G.A.

During the past year, in addition to their regular duties, the members of the Radio Council approved several improvements in Station WDBS's facilities. These changes included broadcasting to a larger campus audience, purchasing new equipment, increasing broadcasting time, and improving program presentations. Radio Council again proved a vital and beneficial part of the WDBS family.

Offering to its staff practical training, experience, and an opportunity to serve the university, the Duke Broadcasting System provides radio entertainment and listening enjoyment for the University community.

In operation since 1949, WDDB is entirely operated and run by students. Through tryouts in the fall announcers and engineers are selected and trained to operate a station.

A self-supporting concern, through local and national advertisers, the station is represented by the College Radio Corporation in New York City, and is connected with the National Association of College Broadcasters.

Managed by Bob Brubaker, WDDB was on the air 14½ hours a day this year and again rated with the nation's top ten college radio stations. The staff of WDDB worked together to Popular shows included Merrimac, which became famous for its take-offs on various aspects of Duke life; the Sunday afternoon Opera Hall of the Air; Flying Saucers, which featured the nation's weekly top ten hits according to Billboard magazine, and the University Hour of classical music.

WDDB piped dinner music daily to the West Campus Union. Progress was made regarding the proposed lines to the new dorms, and other dormitories were rewired for better reception. New furnishings and equipment were added to the WDDB office.

The mission of the Air Force R.O.T.C. program is to prepare students, through a plan of instruction at civilian educational institutions, to serve as officers in the regular and reserve components of the United States Air Force, and to assist in discharging, where necessary, any institutional obligations to offer instruction in military training.

The Duke University Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps was organized in July, 1949. The unit grew rapidly in size, in quality, and in prestige from the original class of forty-four cadets to a strength of more than six hundred cadets shortly after the beginning of the Korean conflict. end of the Korean War, enrollment in the cadet corps has decreased until there are now approximately two hundred cadets in the Wing. It is a select, compact unit one that is producing officers worthy of the United States Air Force.

The activities available to the Air Force ROTC cadets are varied and numerous. Whether the cadet's free hours are few or many, there are opportunities for participation open to him. In addition to just being a member of the cadet wing, the cadet who exhibits his interest and enthusiasm through superior performance on the drill field and in the classroom will soon find himself in a position of leadership. Although regular Air Force officers and non-commissioned officers are assigned to administer and to instruct, it is the cadets themselves who see to it that the cadet wing runs smoothly and efficiently. The Precision Drill Team and the Air Force R.O.T.C. Band offer membership to those cadets who are experienced or interested in precision drill or in band work. These two proud organizations exist not only to perform at parades and reviews but also for the enjoyment of their members.

The cadets are extremely fortunate in having the MARS amateur radio station as it is the only means by which ham radio operators can continue their hobby while at Duke. The MARS station has a training program and is available to any cadet who wishes to participate. Among additional activities in which the cadet may participate are the Annual Military Ball, unit parties, orientation flying and field trips, and for those cadets interested in administration, photography, and writing there are the Personnel, Operations, and Photography Sections and the Cadet Office of Information Services.

The 1956-1957 school year was a busy and interesting one for the cadets of the A.F.R.O.T.C. Wing. Many projects were undertaken; many goals realized. Twelve issues of the A.F.R.O.T.C. newspaper Contact were printed. Field trips were taken to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio and to Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, Texas. The United States Navy and the Marine Corps require, as does any military organization, capable and efficient leadership from its officers. It is this need that has led to the formation of NROTC units in many civilian universities throughout the country.

The primary purpose of the NROTC unit, then, is to train the members for their future role as officers. Every activity of the unit is in that direction. The first need of the capable officer is a high level of technical proficiency. The second need is for pride in the Navy which gives rise to discipline and the effective utilization of the skills he possesses. These needs are met first by the formal instruction in the classroom and on the drill field, and also by the collateral projects which are sponsored by the unit. Examples of these are the Drill Team, the Rifle Team, the Band, and the unit newspaper, the Dolphin. Each of these has the purpose of contributing to the skills, or to the utilization of those skills.

The summer cruise provides the opportunity for the practical application of the knowledge the future naval officer has acquired in the classroom, on the drill field, and in his extra-curricular activities. Upon graduation the midshipman receives his commission in the United States Navy or the Naval Reserve, and goes on active duty, serving along beside his contemporaries from the United States Naval Academy.

The NROTC unit is an integral part of the University and the Navy. As such it plays a dual role, supplying the officer needs of the navy and at the same time supplementing the educational processes of the University by providing the technical training necessary for a future officer.

Duke can be proud of its Navy ROTC Drill Team, commanded by Pat Cogan, which performed at football games and at the Mardi Gras.

Striking twenty-year-old Marion Huey of Fort Lauderdale, Florida, smiled pleasantly and stepped forth from among the half-circle of campus beauties at the Fall Co-ed Ball to accept her crown as the 1957 CHANTICLEER Beauty Queen from Bruce Hydahl, CHANTICLEER Business Manager. Marion, a senior, is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. This year marks her third appearance in the Beauty Court.

The selection of this year's court was made from photographs submitted to Steve Allen, well-known host and comedian. In addition to selecting the queen, Mr. Allen was asked to choose two honor attendants and eight other members of the Queen's Court.

Marion Huey was crowned the 1957 CHANTICLEER Beauty Queen at the winter Co-ed Ball by yearbook business manager Bruce Hydahl.

Fraternity men, independents, and freshmen alike work for many days and nights constructing displays for the homecoming week end

H O M E C O M I N G

From Thursday afternoon until Saturday morning a steady stream of alumni from far and wide signed in for the homecoming week end

The college football season, like an exuberant guest who arrives a little too early while the host is still in the shower, caught Duke unaware. A pair of early setbacks had the alumni a little hedged about how much they would be able to celebrate on this Homecoming Week-end. But for all that, they arrived in droves, setting much of the social tone of the week end. There were the Homecoming displays, alumni barbecue, fraternity parties, and the Homecoming Show.

The crowds of returning alumni beat their way to the stadium that Saturday to worship vocally at the shrine and die a thousand deaths if the score was wrong when Duke's blue and white clad warriors left the turf.

The first crack of band music, and the sustained roar from the packed stadium heralded another Homecoming, another wonderful time, and another victory as the Blue Devils downed the Mustangs of Southern Methodist University. No time of year holds the flavor as does a traditional Duke Homecoming.

Her Majesty Ginny Brewer of Charlotte, N. C. and Pogram House is crowned the 1956 Homecoming Queen by football team captain Buddy Bass at the annual homecoming show held in the university indoor stadium.

Just prior to game time the 1956 Homecoming Queen, Ginny Brewer, rides around the field in an open car with the Duke Blue Devil.

The music for the annual Shoc 'n' Slipper Week End was provided by Richard Maltby, pride of the North Carolina State Debutante Ball.

Hundreds of couples crowded the floor for the Saturday night formal dance rounding out the ninth annual Shoc 'n' Slipper week end.

The crowd looks on while Maltby conducts his orchestra.

Lively carpet cutting at Friday night's informal dance.

SHOE 'N' SLIPPER

For the first time since Shoe 'n' Slipper was originated in 1947, a football game added to the week-end festivities. The Engineers from Georgia Tech combined with Richard Maltby and his orchestra to produce an exciting and enjoyable week end for the Duke Campus. The Duke Players with their first presentation of the "Reclining Figure" on Thursday evening launched the round of parties and dances.

At the afternoon concert and informal dance Friday evening, the students had their first opportunity to hear the strange notes issuing from Maltby's unusual instrument. The perennial rain and the Blue Devil loss on Saturday did not dim the success of the Ninth Fall Week End which ended with a formal dance that evening.

Saxophones and clarinets set the beat for the week end.

Festivities begin with the Joe College parade.

Short pants and high socks set the style for the week end.

The Shoe 'n' Slipper Club presented Les Elgart and his "Band with the dancing sound" for the Joe College Week End.

Several days prior to the annual parade . . .

. . . sororities and fraternities alike started constructing their floats.

Don Forbes entertained with several tunes.

JOE COLLEGE

Hoof 'n' Horn's production of "Top Secret" opened the 1956 Joe College week end by transporting Duke students and imports to a tropical island in the South Pacific, inhabited by beautiful women. The writer and producer was Allen Lacy, the co-producer, Ruth Davis, and the director, King Rimbach.

Fraternities and sororities built floats representing their individual ideas of "Joe College's Utopia," the theme for the week end. Alpha Tau Omega with its pirate ship float and Kappa Alpha with its representation of a jail containing deans and a money tree won top honors in the parade, the ATO's receiving the award for the most beautiful float, and the KA's for the most original float.

Les Elgart furnished his music of "Sophisticated Swing" for the evening dances and the Bermuda Lawn Concert. The week end was brought to a close Sunday with Greek cabin parties and picnics.

When Joe College comes to the Duke campus, he is remembered not so much for the two big dances as he is for the tremendous . . .

. . . lawn concert. Early Saturday morning students and town folks alike begin to spread out their . . .

blankets in the main quad. Around noon box lunches are available to all, and by concert time the ground is covered with people.

Fraternities & Sororities

JIM VAUGHN
President, Interfraternity Council

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

With the rush program taking place during the spring semester, the Interfraternity Council found itself extremely busy again this year in overseeing the rushing program. The single abrogation of the rush rules was met with disciplinary action meted out by the I.F.C. Besides directing the perennial rush procedure the I.F.C. continuously worked for better coordination between the administration, independents, and Greek organizations. I.F.C. was also instrumental in the re-evaluation of the University drinking code. During the Spring semester I.F.C. planned and carried out Greek Week which brought all fraternities together on a worth-while project, and also held a wheel-barrow race which gave all the fraternities an opportunity to meet for comedy and competition. As a whole, it was another outstanding year for the Council so ably led by Jim Vaughn.

The Interfraternity Council, 1st year: D. Quatlebaum, B. Edwards, J. Vaughan, B. Cozart, M. Jenko, B. Beane. 2nd year: L. Bennett, B. Beaty, W. Bourne, J. Gralls, B. Kloman, R. Towce, P. PHOEBE ANDERSON
President, Pan-Hellenic Council

PAN-HEL COUNCIL

The Pan-Hellenic Council is a representative body of two members from each of the thirteen sororities. It handles the enormous task of co-ordinating the sorority program and serving as a representative of National Pan-Hellenic on campus.

This year the council has been involved in the elaborate planning necessary for the introduction of a second semester rush program next year. In a similar vein, much work was done on revising the membership quotas with regard to the future enrollment expansion. Other activities include: the publication of a handbook for freshmen, a rush evaluation program, and pledge swaps with West. Pan-Hellenic also joined I.F.C. in sponsoring the annual Greek Week activities.

In addition to its duties among the sororities, Pan-Hellenic sponsors an overseas orphan and awards scholarships.

CHARLOTTE YATES
President, Alpha Chi Omega

The sound of hammers, the smell of fresh paint, and the sight of upser chairs and lamps greeted returning Alpha Chi's in September. Order was soon restored, however, and we proudly entered our newly decorated room in time for rush. Chor wielded the gavel, Ruth and JoAnn planned gala rush parties, and soon we welcomed our twenty favorite rushees as pledges. Fun and fellowship continued at unique parties planned by Polly and Marilyn, including coffees, picnics, banquets and a party at the Cerebral Palsy Hospital.

Second semester activities were highlighted by a Valentine dinner dance for our pledges at the Carolina Inn, Cheerful Cherub Day, Margaret's miraculous transformation of our second room, and the annual Joe College festivities.

Our wonderful year in Alpha Chi Omega ended with a flurry of planning for our convention in Pasadena.

September arrived, and the ADPI's returned to Duke. Rushing was the highlight of our fall semester with 19 pledges joining the Alpha Delt clan. Our Saturday afternoons were spent with the children at Durham's Cerebral Palsy Hospital. Our fall beauties included four sisters in the Chanticleer Beauty Court and Betsy and Peg in the Homecoming Court. Christmas brought many parties with U.N.C.'s Zetes and the Duke KA's, which were given for underprivileged children.

With the new year came the excitement of our pledge dance at the Carolina Inn and Friendship Week which followed. Ellen was chosen as the Duke KA Rose. Before we knew it, we found ourselves devoting our time to the Joe College Float. Then once again it was exam time, and we said our goodbyes to the Seniors, especially to our Kay. But we were looking forward to another wonderful year of campus life.

This year brought the return of our AEPhi's with Bunny presiding. After a hectic three week rush period, seven new pledges were the wonderful reward. The pledges did themselves proud with their party for the actives. During the fall we joined in open houses with fraternities at both Duke and Carolina, conducted Hillel services, and ended up the semester on a cheerful note with our own pre-exam pizza party.

The climax of second semester was the night we crowned our pledges "Queen for a Night" at our dinner dance in the Washington Duke Hotel. Along came spring, and AEPhi had a well-spent afternoon when it gave a party for orphans where a good time was had by all. This year Alpha Epsilon Phi can boast as notables many girls on house council, some Sunday School teachers, and, saving the best for the last, Dot, our campus-wide chairman of the FAC's.

The start of a new year and here we are again in jolly Alpha Phi. Much of our time was spent in frolicking. Scholarship picnics, pledge banquet at the Colonial Inn, dinner dance at the Wash-Duke, holiday parties with our alumnae, Monday bridge coffees, Initiation banquet at the Carolina Inn, a tea in honor of our national president, Mrs. Keys, showers, farewell party for the seniors, and the climax of the year, our annual migration to Myrtle Beach.

In addition, we also gave several parties for others. December found us caroling at the V.A. Hospital and joining the Kappa Sigs in entertaining children from the Methodist Orphanage. Later in the year we sponsored a benefit bridge party for our national philanthropy, Cardiac Aid.

Despite this social calendar, Beta Nu gained third place scholastically and turned out three Phi Beta's, along with other campus leaders.

Tri Delta celebrated its 25th year at Duke. 18 pledges joined the ranks. Remember: U.N.C. hostesses for Founders' Day dinner, Tri Delta Tasties for our scholarship fund, PiKA and Tri Delt joining forces to play Santa Claus at Christmas. Meanwhile our illustrious ones were engaged in their campus roles. Martha Rae, our president, Phi Beta Kappa, cheerleader—Sylvia, head of Co-ordinate Board—Barbara, Jennie, Susie, FACs—Jennie, CHANTICLEER Assistant Editor—Lynn, Judy Rep—Margie on beauty court—Alix, Co-author of Hoof 'n Horn show. After Christmas and exams came the initiation doings—a pledge dance at the Hope Valley Country Club and a week of festivities from which emerged new actives. Spring officially began with the Tri Delt Fashion Show—it progressed rapidly into a work day on the Joe College float and terminated with graduation and summer holidays.

Following an early October morning indoctrination of twenty pledges, the new Thetas gave a breakfast at the Wash-Duke and party at the Castle.

White Duchy member, Ginny, was crowned Homecoming Queen. In December, Theta and several fraternities indulged in pre-Christmas parties for orphans, and provided clothes, food, and presents for a needy family.

Honors accumulated: Marion reigned as CHANTICLEER Queen with Marilyn in the court; Jean was a Maid of Cotton finalist; Nancy, Nonie, and Margie became Phi Beta's; Lassic was Social Standards Chairman; KB was junior class president; FAC's were Barrie, Marilyn, and Alice. The Triad followed a farewell to Haze and welcome to new prexy Anne. Initiation preceded our combination Founders' Day and initiation banquet. District conventions and Joe College floats kept us active. The seniors were given a party then—graduation.

In the fall a lonely little red devil named Mephistopholes hit East Campus. He found the way to the Hades of the KD's during rush and liked it so well he stayed all year.

When Christmas came he went to Chapel Hill to party with the KD's and a fraternity there, but finding that he had more in common with the Blue Devils, he rounded off his holiday festivities with a Delt party.

With many apologies, he finally invited the Chapel Hill chapter over, and they swapped suppressed desires.

After coaching all the girls through exams, Meph sighed with relief, put up the white roses for the pledge dance at the Wash Duke and then initiated our pledges.

As the sisters walked off into the sunset at graduation, Meph looked in a mirror to congratulate himself and discovered that he, too, could be a success. He had green and white teeth, also.

The Kappas were reunited in September when Duke opened its doors once again for the school year. Rush came in October followed by a cabin party for the new pledges. In November, ATO and Kappa jointly sponsored a Thanksgiving party for Edgemont children. December featured several events: a spaghetti dinner with the Alums, a jaunt to the Planetarium and dinner in Chapel Hill, and a Christmas party with the SAE's for underprivileged children.

After the opening of the new year a coffee was held with the Zetas. The Golden Triad Dance was held in February along with a big and little sister Valentine Party. Time for initiation arrived, and in March the Kappas sponsored an ice cream social.

With Joe College Week End in store for April, work began on the float for the parade. The year closed with the senior banquet in May and a last fling at the Myrtle Beach party.

September, we returned in style
 Greeting our sisters with a smile
 We prepared for starting rush
 With its parties gay and plush.

Our fine pledge class of 18 girls
 Began its days of work and whirls
 "We really love them one and all"
 Joanne said with her Dixie drawl.

A pledge banquet at the Castle,
 A meal the union can't excell.
 At Hope Valley, a dancing spree
 A night for our pledges' jubilee.

On to the Cerebral Palsy Hospital
 We were due for a pleasant thrill
 Teaching the children their ABC's
 Made us love brave ones as these.

We've had a very wonderful year
 Full of friendship and good cheer
 But next September, we will renew
 Another year of fun in Phi Mu.

President, Pi Beta Phi

Pi Phi has been busier than ever this year. Upon returning to school and our completely redecorated room, we immediately plunged into plans for rush. Social functions were many. We again sponsored our annual Christmas party for the children of Edgemont with the Beta's. The highlight of the season was the Golden Triad pledge dance at the Washington-Duke and our initiation banquet at the Ranch House. As a project for the year we conducted a survey among Durham residents for the Durham County Cancer Organization and sponsored a lecture given on East Campus by medical members of the local Cancer Society. Julia Hart was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, Barbara Biekhart to Who's Who, and many other Pi Phi's received campus honors. The year ended with our Senior Banquet and each of us stopped to remember the parties and work that had gone into making this one of the best years for Pi Phi.

The Sigma Kappas gathered prior to the opening of fall semester for a pre-school planning and fun session at Marianna's Durham home. After recalling the June beach party the sisters discussed the coming Saturday's cabin party which would initiate the social season. Rush soon occupied us and saw the establishment of the "Hot Pot" tradition with its distinguished hat.

With the excitement of rush over, actives and newly acquired pledges occupied themselves with a Halloween party in appropriate setting, presenting an evenings entertainment at the Methodist Retirement Home, a picnic in Duke Park, a pledge banquet and Christmas party and numerous informal gatherings.

After exams the Sigmas returned to begin second semester with pizza parties, pledge dance at the Washington-Duke, initiation, spring picnics, Joe College float, and a beach party.

ANN PORENDEXTER
President, Zeta Tau Alpha

Returning to a newly decorated room, the Zetas made plans for their new rush party. The "Zetanese" in Oriental kimonos and the sisters in white formals at the formal parties drew a fine pledge class. Soon after rush we had a pizza party and dinner with the alumnae. We always look forward to our "bean-steak" dinner, senior banquet, and annual dinner dance for the pledges.

Socially speaking, our open house with the PhiKaps and serenade and party with the PiKA's were fun. But the Zetas remember many other things they've done together—working at Durham Day Nursery, entertaining children at Oxford Orphanage with the PhiKaps, and slaving on the Joe College Float. Individual Zetas have done their share on campus, too—Ann, our president—Fran, PhiKap Queen—Margery and Margaret, Ivy—6 FACs—Bobbie, secretary of Pan Hel and Joanne, Y.W.C.A. treasurer.

Alpha Tau Omega, led by president Bill Beatty, once again enjoyed an extremely successful year. Both the M.S.G.A. and Y.M.C.A. took giant strides under the able leadership of Edgar Fisher and Al Wheeler.

ATO, while maintaining a high scholastic average, was very active socially, with parties and informal get-togethers dotting the calendar. The highlight of the fall season was a unique Roman Toga Party, complete with horses, chariots, suits of armor and the inevitable rain. Setting off the spring was the annual ATO Sweetheart Ball, which was only one event among the many parties and occasional trips to the beach.

The trophy case is rapidly becoming overcrowded. Early in the fall, ATO was awarded the Fraternity Citizenship Trophy. The Homecoming Display and John Goodall's ugly face brought the "Taus" two more.

PHIL BAKER
President, Beta Theta Pi

On September 20 House II came to life with such noises as "deal 'em" and "let's make it to Baileys." Again the Betas were returning from vacation to the college life of Dear ol' Duke. Plans were made for an active social program which included open houses after football games, dinners, dances, and an occasional cabin party.

As the year progressed, Betas were found in almost all phases of Duke's extra-curricular life. Brothers held positions on the Judicial Board, Shoe and Slipper Council, Student Union Board of Directors, and Pep Board, while Beta athletes participated in varsity and intramural sports. Spring Vacation and Joe College brought to a close another year of festivities. Under the leadership of president Phil Baker the Beta Stars continued to shine brightly on Gamma Rho.

Achievement has been the by-word in another great year for Delta Sigma Phi. Under the able leadership of Brother Al Heil, the chapter has added many "firsts" to its list of accomplishments.

The highlights of the year included the state-wide Founder's Day Banquet and Dance, the selection of our Sweet-heart, and the annual Sailors Ball in the spring. The Founder's Day program was sponsored by this chapter and included all Delta Sig chapters and colonies in North Carolina. Among other events of the chapter were serenades, rushing, pledge training, and initiations, as well as intramural sports and other campus activities throughout the academic year.

It was a good year for Delta Sigma Phi . . . a year pervaded by that genuine fraternal spirit which comes of belonging to and working for a common cause.

President, Delta Tau Delta

The Deltas started the school year with a full list of social activities, including cabin parties, smorgasbords before football games, an annual Christmas dance, and our formal Rainbow Ball. We also enjoyed several parties with fraternities and sororities from Chapel Hill. Our rush season culminated with a banquet at the Ranch House and a pledge dance at the Carolina Inn. In the Homecoming displays, a wild mustang "doughnut" of S.M.U. was dunked to the tune of "LOOKS LIKE WE'LL DUNK 'EM DO-NUT." We were well represented on the sports field, as well as in campus publications, including the Chronicle, CHANTICLEER, and Duk-Engineer. All in all, Delta Tau Delta enjoyed one of its most successful years. Again having one of the largest pledge classes on campus, we look forward to another prosperous year in 1957-58.

This was a year for the Grand Old Gang to remember. In football, basketball, and intramurals we won glory for the University and honor for the fraternity. Above all, a new and still finer K.A. era began. A great fraternity grew superior in every way, and a comradeship of true manhood became the most outstanding brotherhood in the chapter's history. Under Dixie's Stars and Bars men rose courageously to meet threats to the life they cherish, becoming a group General Lee would have proudly enlisted in the best of his sacred Southern ranks. The year, climaxed by our traditional Old South Ball, ended with the graduation of many fine Southern gentlemen. With those leaving we send our best: the great heritage of Kappa Alpha of which we are so proud. With ideals such as these inspiring her men, the South shall surely rise again.

"O, rub a dub dub, three men in a tub, out on the ocean blue. . . . These Kappa Sigs have made big strides and added lots that's new."

Experiencing one of its greatest years, Kappa Sigma moved to still greater prominence in its national family and on the Duke campus. A big birthday party, rushing, remodeling and individual excellence on the part of the brothers were all ingredients of a successful year.

The first semester was filled with week-end parties following the football games. In November the brothers were guests of the Wake Forest chapter for the Duke-Wake game. Rushing was number one on the agenda for second semester and a host of fine neophytes were added to the chapter scroll. Socially, the year was highlighted by the annual Stardust Week End, which centered around the Black and White Ball.

Duke's Lambda Chi's returned in September to enjoy another successful year. Football week ends, parties, intramurals as well as studies occupied the brothers during the year. At Homecoming, the "pole-sitter" display was one of the most talked about on campus. After regular football season, another mighty battle was waged between the Duke and Carolina Lambda Chi's in the annual Schlitz Bowl. At Christmas time, the brothers gave the annual party for the Edgemont children. The Christmas formal climaxed the fall semester.

With second semester Lambda Chi had a most successful rush season. When rush was over, Lambda Chi had added a group of outstanding pledges. The spring semester also brought the Inter-Zeta Dance at Myrtle Beach, The Joe College Week End, and beach parties to finish an eventful and enjoyable year.

September of '56 saw the return of the Phi Psi's to the City of Exciting Stores, anticipating another year of fraternal activity.

Phi Psi contributed men to varsity soccer, wrestling, and track; campus publications; WBDG; Phi Beta Kappa; and Who's Who. Open houses and cabin parties filled the fall football afternoons and, when the weather grew colder, the Brothers found suitable indoor activities for leisure time. For the annual Christmas party at the Cerebral Palsy Hospital, North Carolina Alpha joined U.N.C.'s Alpha Delta Pi sorority. Early in January the Jacqueminot Rose Ball, held at the Washington Duke Hotel, finished the first semester's socializing. After a brief vacation, the Brothers returned for rush and emerged with an extremely promising pledge class, as an all-too-short year drew to a close.

Returning in September to a completely new section big enough to house the largest fraternity on campus, the reunited Phi Kappa Sigmas began another successful year. With first and second semester presidents Harris Marshall and Byrd Courtney at the helm, an outstanding Phi Kap social program was launched. Highlights of the fall semester were Homecoming, which celebrated our Twentieth anniversary, and the winter formal at Hope Valley. Other events included "informals" at Smith's Lake, and, climaxing the year, the spring Black and Gold Week End.

In addition to social functions, Phi Kappa Sigma participated in many other areas of campus activity, Winning the intramural softball championship and contributing leaders to several organizations. Nu Chapter continued its tradition of leadership and service on Duke campus.

No sooner were all the brothers back on campus last fall than things began to happen. Five home football games meant five open houses and five big week ends. We won't forget all the midnight oil consumed in raising the Homecoming display nor the Tech game and the week end at Blowing Rock which accompanied it. Then there was the 1956 Rose Ball at the Carolina Country Club in Raleigh, followed by a Christmas party with the KAT's. Meanwhile there were interesting developments in intramurals. Armed with a speedy backfield and a beefy line, we swept to a division championship in football and finished strong in basketball, badminton, and volleyball.

Spring social events included a cabin party at Hartman's, the spring formal, and a week end at Nellie G's in Myrtle Beach, rounding out a banner year for Pi Kappa Phi.

The fall semester got off to a roaring start with the usual parties and beer drownings at the beach. After football games, the section area was packed with brothers, their dates, and spectators, all watching the combo playing jazz under the gaily colored awning.

The Christmas party at Wright's Refuge and the Christmas Formal at the Washington Duke exemplified the spirit of the winter season.

Needless to say, much time and money was necessary to keep Leo, II in his gold armour, thanks to many buckets of paint which were poured over his head. All those who tried to paint, paint no more.

As spring came, cabin and beach parties predominated. A serious part of the semester was the celebration of the 101st anniversary of S.A.E.'s founding.

Yet, the SAE's still had time for all extra-curricular activities.

President, Sigma Chi

The fall initiated another successful year for the brothers of Sigma Chi. Many upperclass pledges were added to swell the ranks and to help build the winning Homecoming display. Our spirit was kept high with strong intramural teams, a week end at Pinehurst, and our annual Christmas party for underprivileged children.

With a marked improvement in scholarship, we began the spring semester. Rushing brought another outstanding freshman pledge class whose members contributed their varied interests and talents to the fraternity. A year of fine social activity was climaxed by our Sweetheart Dance. Sportswise, we participated in all major activities, with the captains of swimming and soccer and an All-American coming from our ranks. In short, Sigma Chi has again completed a successful year of leadership on campus.

1956-57 was an outstanding year academically and socially for the Sig Eps of N. C. Gamma. A high point of the year's activities was the renovation of our chapter and card rooms, providing the brothers with more attractive surroundings for their many open houses and smokers. Homecoming, with its "Rack SMU" display and an informal dance at the Plantation Club, was a welcomed change from the usual cabin and dinner parties.

The Sig Eps enjoyed a winning intramural record, leading the league in football most of the season. The fall semester was brought to a close with the annual Christmas caroling on East and a spirited eggnog party. This Spring the "fraternity with a heart" entertained themselves and dates at the annual Sig Ep Ball in Winston-Salem and the traditional "Charlie's Day" at Hogan's Lake.

To celebrate our sixth birthday on the Duke Campus, we of TEP moved into our new section in the "Fraternity Quadrangle." This was only the first of many progressive steps taken by TEP this year.

Our social calendar was filled with cabin parties, dinner-dances, and topped by our annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. TEP's brothers also participated widely in extra-curricular activities by taking part in Duke Players productions, announcing over WDDB, writing for the Peer and Chronicle, managing the tennis team, playing varsity golf and lacross, and participating in many intramural sports.

Our pledging program helped to complete TEP's most successful year because it was at this time that our fraternity was able to show that it has truly become an integral part of the Duke Community.

The fall of '56 found the brothers of Theta Chi with fond memories of our great centennial year, but these were soon overshadowed as the year got under way. First came football week ends, with the brothers polishing trophies, door knobs, and social graces for House U open houses. The cabin party at Crabtree capped off Shoe 'n' Slipper week end. Christmas found us caroling on East and at Hanes and treating the children in the Pediatrics Ward to a party. The new semester brought rushing and the big Mason-Dixon Jubilee, while Joe College was highlighted by a cabin party and the big parade. The brothers climaxed the year formally with our traditional Dream Girl dinner-dance, and informally with the salt spray and sand of Wrightsville beach, leaving us content that our second century was off to a fine start.

The semester's events went by quickly: parties, open houses, studying, get-togethers at the Saddle Club, goof-off sessions, and more studying. For future nostalgia, there was the Homecoming blast at the Wash Duke and a successful Christmas party for the Edgemont children. The fall semester was a tremendous achievement both academically and socially. Almost one-third of Zeta Beta Tau were placed on Dean's list.

The spring semester brought good cheer, new pledges, lots of sun, shorts, cabin parties, and raincoats. With Joe College and the fabulous May Affair, we ended another successful year.

DUKE 3 SOUTH CAROLINA 7

For the first time since 1946 the Blue Devils got off on the wrong foot in their season opener, dropping a rough defensive battle to the Gamecocks of South Carolina, 0-7. It was also the first time since 1931 that Duke had lost to South Carolina. The '31 game was similar to this year's—season opener, and by a 0-7 score.

Duke kicked off, and promptly got possession of the ball on the U.S.C. fifteen, when an errant pass from center flew over the head of Mackie Prickett. But, on the next play, Duke fullback Hal McElhancy fumbled and U.S.C. recovered. Never again would the Gamecocks give up the ball so easily.

The game's only touchdown came in the second quarter. Climaxing a sustained 81-yard drive which consumed 19 plays, U.S.C. halfback King Dixon plunged over from the one.

Duke came back on the kickoff and rolled down the field to the 1-foot line, but couldn't score. A dropped pass in the end-zone ended their only other scoring chance.

Stung by their surprising defeat by South Carolina, the experienced Blue Devils came of age at Charlottesville, trouncing the Cavaliers of Virginia, 40-7. Fourteen Duke backs took part in the rout, with halfback Bunny Blancy leading the offense with 84 yards in 13 carries.

Sonny Jurgensen bucked over from the one in the first quarter to start the scoring. Jurg passed to Buddy Bass for 23 yards and a touchdown in the second period. Before the quarter was over, end Bert Lattimore had scored on a 36-yard return of an interception. Virginia's only score came at the start of the second half. A pass from Bob Brodhead to Eddie Rushton gave Duke its fourth touchdown. Number five came on another pass, this one going from Pryor Millner to Lattimore. Center Johnny Long ended the fireworks with a 37-yard dash into paydirt on an intercepted pass.

Dave Hurm seems to be saying, "Hey, boy, you're not going any-where but backwards," to Tennessee's hard-charging Tommy Bronson.

Duke's sophomore halfback Wray Carlton is power in motion as he digs down the right sideline past a diving Tennessee defender.

On the rain-soaked green of Duke Stadium, Tennessee unleashed a powerful single wing attack which smothered the Blue Devils, 33-20, leaving the Murraymen with a 1-2 record.

The tremendous running of All-American tailback Johnny Majors got the Vols off to a 19-7 lead after only four minutes of the second quarter. Majors left the game with an injured shoulder in the second quarter, but the Vols never relinquished the lead his dazzling broken-field running gave them.

Duke broke into the scoring column in the first period when quarterback Bob Brodhead plunged over from the one after engineering a 62-yard drive. Just before the end of the half, speedy Bob Honeycutt slashed over from the seven to cut the score to 19-13.

Tennessee wrapped it up with two quick touchdowns in the third quarter.

Low-flying Eddie Rushton is caught in flight by an S.M.U. lineman

Halfback Bunny Blaney is almost tripped by one of his blockers as he attempts to fight out of a high tackle by an S.M.U. lineman.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, still nursing his injured legs, came off the bench twice to spark the Blue Devils to a 14-6 win over the Mustangs of S.M.U.

After S.M.U. quarterback Charlie Arnold had scored in the second quarter, Duke took the kickoff and proceeded to march 98 yards to go ahead. Jurgensen sat out the advance until, with one and a half minutes left and the ball on the S.M.U. 35, he came in and fired two quick passes to set the ball on the one. He bucked once and didn't score, and then, without using a huddle, sent Eddie Rushton over with no time left on the clock.

In the third quarter, Bunny Blaney intercepted a pass and ran it back to the S.M.U. 46. A few plays later, Jurgensen sent Hal McElhanev 22 yards up the middle for the final score.

PITT 37

Bunny Blaney took the opening kickoff and raced 97 yards for a touchdown, but Duke could not contain Pitt's Panthers, losing the Oyster Bowl game, 27-14. Blaney's run stunned Pitt for a quarter, but that was all.

Within six minutes in the second quarter, Pitt collected three touchdowns to ice the game. Panther end Joe Walton scored twice on pass plays covering 38 and 58 yards to lead the Pitt attack.

Duke fought back gamely in the last half, but could never manage to push over a sustained drive. Eddie Rushton scored the only other Duke touchdown with a 77-yard return of an intercepted Pitt lateral. Pitt got the game's final score when DiPasquale went over from inches out with only 20 seconds showing on the clock.

Unleashing a record-shattering offense, Duke smothered State's multiple offense on the rain-soaked Duke Stadium, 42-0. The Devils set new A.C.C. records for most rushing plays and most offensive plays.

Bob Brodhead started things off in the first quarter by sneaking over from the three, after Buddy Bass had recovered a Wolfpack fumble on the 21. In the second quarter, Wray Carlton scored from one yard out, and Sonny Jurgensen tossed seven yards to Eddie Rush-ton for the third touchdown.

Carlton scored again in the third quarter, this time on a 14-yard dash. Phil Dupler also scored in this quarter, bucking over from the one. In the final period, Pryor Millner passed 15 yards to Dave Hurm to end the scoring for the day.

The Blue Devil defense cracked only once, but it was all that Georgia Tech's second-ranked Yellow Jackets needed to stop Duke, 7-0.

The one touchdown of the game came in the final quarter with 9:20 remaining to play. Climaxing a 62-yard drive which started on an interception by Paul Rotenberry, Tech's Dick Mattison plunged over from the one to give the Ramblin' Wreck the victory.

The Engineers started off as if they meant to make a run-away of the game, but twice in the first quarter Duke's Eddie Rushton intercepted Tech passes deep in Blue Devil territory to stifle scoring drives.

Despite out-playing the Wreck statistically, Duke could never quite make pay dirt. The closest they came was the five yard line in the second quarter.

Bill Thompson

Playing at home the Duke eleven battled the highly ranked Middies from Annapolis to a 7-7 tie. The hard-fought contest was marred by a total of 18 penalties and eight fumbles.

Navy drew first blood in the second quarter on an 83-yard touchdown drive. The Middies held onto their lead until midway in the last quarter. Pass interference was called on a Navy defender attempting to break up a Sonny Jurgensen to Bob Benson pass, and the Blue Devils got the ball on Navy's one-yard line. From there Jurgensen sneaked the ball over for the score.

With the pressure on, Bunny Blaney booted a perfect placement to knot the score and give Duke a tie. Both teams attempted field goals later on in the fading moments of the game, but failed. This was the third time in the last four years that the two clubs have battled to a tie.

Johnny Long (52) is too late as Navy's Paul Gohier, dragging George Dutrow (47), plunges across the goal for Navy's lone score.

Pete Jokanovich (86) falls in trying to stop Wray Carlton (27)

No, those aren't coal miners. You'd never know it, but that's Duke vs. Wake Forest. We're not certain, but the runner looks like halfback Eddie Rushton.

The Deacon's Charlie Carpenter throws a pun-um take down on George Dutrow

In the nearest thing to a swamp that Duke has ever played a football game on, the Blue Devils shut out Wake Forest, 26-0. Sophomore halfback George Dutrow personally took the spirit out of the Deacons by scoring twice in the first half.

This first touchdown, which was enough to bring Duke's season record up to the .500 mark, was scored on a long 52-yard dash after a handoff from quarterback Sonny Jurgensen. This one came in the first quarter. Then, in the second quarter, Dutrow scored again, this time on a short 10-yard dash. As the half ended, Duke led 13-0.

Even the torrential rain couldn't stop the Devils from piling up the score in the last half. Wake had to punt the first time they got the ball, and Jurgensen returned it to the Wake twenty-five. Halfback Eddie Rushton took it over, from the six, three plays later. Center Johnny Long recovered a Deacon fumble on their twenty-two to set the stage for the day's final touchdown. Five plays after the recovery, speedy halfback Bunny Blaney legged it over from the three.

Closing out their worst year in the won-lost column since Bill Murray first came here as head coach, the Blue Devils stopped U.N.C., 21-6. It was the seventh straight win for Duke over the Tarheels.

There was never much doubt that Duke would win, but Carolina stayed on even terms with the Blue Devils until the closing minutes of the second quarter. After having a touch-down called back because of an ineligible receiver, Duke marched 88 yards to score on an 11-yard dash by Wray Carlton. Carolina's only touch-down came minutes later, helped by two 15-yard penalties. Then, as the first snow of the year drifted slowly down into Kenan Stadium, Bunny Blaney slipped over from the seven to give Duke a 14-6 half time edge. After missing two scoring opportunities in the third quarter, Sonny Jurgensen led the Devils on a 72-yard drive, taking it over from the 1-yard line.

As the basketball season rolled around, the Blue Devil's future looked anything but bright. Graduation had hit the team hard and four members of last year's team failed to return because of scholastic difficulties. There were no seniors on the roster.

With only four lettermen returning, coach Hal Bradley and his assistant, Tony Drago, turned to the tremendous task of rebuilding the team. The results were surprising. Duke was a team which gave every club in the A.C.C. a hard time. It was a hot-and-cold-team, which was capable of beating a nationally ranked opponent on one night, and then lose to a cellar-dweller the next time out. The 13-11 overall record included some of the best and some of the worst games that a Duke team has ever played.

Two of the four lettermen were guards. Bucky Allen and Bobby Joe Harris brought experience and speed to the '56-'57 team. Like the team, they were hot and cold. They were joined by Bob Vernon, a cool junior transfer from Campbell College, who had the deadliest jump shot on the team.

Forwards Jim Newcome and Paul Schmidt were the other two experienced players that Bradley had to work with. Newcome led the team in scoring and rebounding, and showed promise of becoming a great star next year, if he tries. Schmidt did not play as often as Newcome, but when he did play, he was a terror under the boards and showed a good eye. He was second to Newcome in rebounds. He was a real hustler who should make a good showing his senior year.

Hayes Clement (31) outjumps Grady Wallace (41) for the rebound.

High-stepping Jim Newcome lifts his size 13's to get a rebound

Clemson's Vince Yickel (31) and Duke's Jerry Robertson practice picking apples.

Another junior, inexperienced Hayes Clement, turned in a fine job at center. He needed seasoning at the start of the year, and progressed rapidly to become a top rebounder and scorer, but didn't quite learn the secret of not fouling.

Two sophomores gave considerable support to the six juniors. They were Jerry Robertson and Don Miller. Both played in all of the games, and had improved considerably at the end of the season. Robertson looked especially good in the last few games, and Miller sparked Duke scoring punch against Wake Forest and South Carolina, that last game coming in the tournament.

Duke started off fast before Christmas vacation, losing to West Virginia in the finals of the Birmingham Classic, and then bumping off Kentucky by one point in a thriller at home. Then, after getting revenge on West Virginia in the opening round of the Dixie Classic, the Devils finished out the season without another win away from home. Even the lowly Virginia Cavaliers whipped Duke away from the Indoor Stadium.

Among those away from home defeats were a 72-79 loss to State, a 69-71 overtime defeat at the hands of Navy, and the "big game," a heart-breaking, last-second loss to North Carolina, the nation's number one team, 73-75.

But the Devils made up for these away game setbacks by not losing a home game until the final one of the year.

Perhaps the most notable of the home victories was the 75-64 defeat of Wake Forest. It was a revenge match, since the Deacons were the only team to beat the Blue Devils in the Indoor Stadium last year. The final game was against Carolina, and, after having come from behind, Duke lost in the last two minutes.

BASEBALL

After losing eight of their first nine games, the Duke baseball club did an about-face and went on to become the "cinderella" team of the 1956 season. The Blue Devils won 12 of their next 13 games to win the A.C.C. championship and a berth in the N.C.A.A. District III Tourney, where they finally lost to Ole Miss in the finals.

Third baseman Andy Cokkrell led the Devils at bat with a .360 average, and right behind him was second sacker Dub Fesperman with a .357 mark. Centerfielder Bunny Blaney was the third regular in the charmed circle with a .320 percentage.

Reliable Lon Bonzek hit .291 and fielded smoothly at shortstop, George Atkinson and George Dutrow platoon at first base, Steve Cribfield and Bob Weitzman shared the catching, while R.B.I. man Buddy Bass patrolled right field and speedy leadoff man Bill Dombhoff held the fort in left.

Dick Smallwood and Dick Burton, both lefties, won 11 of Duke's 16 victories. Smallwood finishing 6-3 and Burton 5-3. Dependable righthanded starters were Harleigh Fatzinger and Tom Blackburn. Ready in relief were Bob Thuenmel, Dale Boyd, John Challenger and O. K. Niess.

T R A C K

Tutored by coaches Lewis, Chambers and Buehler, and led by the record-shattering Dave Sime, the 1956 thineclads bulled their way to an undefeated record in dual meets and second place in the conference meet. Although Sime was the individual standout, the Blue's fine record, best in Duke history, must be attributed to a combined team effort.

The Blue Devils, especially strong in the sprints and weight events, rolled over South Carolina, Navy, Wake Forest, Virginia, N. C. State, and Carolina in compiling their perfect record. The top meet of the season saw Duke edge Navy 67-64, in a duel which was not decided until the final event. The 78-53 romp over Carolina finished off the year.

Carl James is an intent spectator as muscular Larry Spier, the track team's great weight man, unwinds after throwing the shot put.

Jumping the gun, Dave Sims is off to a false start in the finals of the conference 220-yard dash. Needless to say, the redhead won the race and set a new conference record in doing it. The meet was at the Duke track.

While Larry Spurr shouts encouragement, Dave Sims breezes home an easy winner in the low hurdles.

All alone at the finish line, as usual, Dave Sims picks up another win in the 220-yard dash.

During the season Sime broke world records in the 220, 220 low hurdles, and the indoor 100, besides tying several others. At the Drake Relays he outran Olympic champion Bobby Morrow in the rain and sleet with a time of :09.4.

Other outstanding performers included weightmen Larry Spear and Phil Dupler, quarter-miler Bob Kline, half-miler Jess Peter, hurdler Bob Sparrow, and distance runner Bill Hotelling.

Vital to the young team's cause were its only seniors, Ron Mayer, Junior Morgan, and Bill Anderson, along with letter winners Hank Wells, Bob Honeycutt, Bob Johnson, John Jordan, Bob Noble, Nick Kredich, Charles Pratt, Curt Cobb, Phil Scudieri, and Andy Lewis.

Caught by our cameraman in mid-air, Ronnie Mayer makes a perfect picture of form after having gone flying over the high bar for an easy victory.

Over 3,000 spectators thronged into Duke Stadium to watch the action in the annual A.C.C. track meet, which was won by Maryland, with Duke runner-up.

Time for a breather and some advice from coach Persons. Caught in the rest period are Padgett, Richardson, Miller, Persons, Mathews, and Berger.

A pass downfield momentarily slows down the action in the Duke-Maryland game. The only identifiable Blue Devil is Skip Hearn (23) on the right.

LACROSSE

The Blue Devil lacrosse team climaxed its 1956 season by sending captain and All-American Dick Saunders to the annual North-South game in Geneva, New York. In that game Saunders, who had been plagued by injuries all year, put on the biggest one-man scoring show in the history of the game. The two records which he set were for the most goals in one game, seven, and for the most goals in one quarter, six. That last record will probably never be matched.

Aside from that one bright spot, the Blue Devils, who had never before fallen below seventh in the nation, suffered eight defeats, and were ranked twelfth in the nation at the close of the season. The closest the stickmen came to winning was in their defeats at the hands of Washington and Lee and Colgate. The majority of their losses were pinned on them by teams ranked within the top nine in college.

Several seniors, a fair number of juniors, and some very promising sophomores make prospects for the 1957 season appear quite encouraging. Coach "Jack" Persons has already found seven likely looking freshmen ready to move up to the 1958 team, so the future for Duke lacrosse is beginning to look brighter.

The referee's outstretched arms signify a goal in the Maryland game. Devil stickmen are Davis (32), Mascous, and Mathews (37).

Coach Jim Bly combined the talents of nine returning lettermen, plus reserves from last year and four newcomers to come up with one of the finest teams in the short history of soccer at Duke. Captained by All-American halfback, Tom Colmey, the booters opened the season by defeating a mediocre Davidson squad 9-0. Playing away from home the Blue Devils lost their next two games; to Maryland, the conference champion, by a 3-1 score, and to Virginia 2-0. The Blymen then caught fire and proceeded to win all of their remaining games. Combining the high scoring talents of Simon Izaquire and Ed Gauld with the sparkling defensive work of Don Sedlack and Ted Loch the booters ran over W and L, Roanoke, U.N.C. and N. C. State.

The blinding sun and untied shoelaces are all part of the game.

Fresh stars Cary Weisinger and Tom Mencker unlimber their legs.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Al Buchler's building program, in its second year, began to show results as the harriers posted their best record in recent campaigns with a mark of three wins and five losses. Prospects for the future are especially bright, since all the team were underclassmen, not one man will be lost through graduation. And, besides that, the freshmen team was the finest to run at Duke for more than a decade.

Pacing the thin-clads to their victory over Clemson, Wake Forest, and South Carolina was little Bill Hotelling. Running second was Bob Noble, followed by Henry Wells and Bob Posthumus. John Jordan, Dave Blackstone, Murrey Atkins, and Mary Barnes fought for the other positions.

WRESTLING

With captain Hal McElhanev retaining his 191-pound title in the A.C.C. Championship Tourney and the Blue Devil squad recapturing the third-place slot in the same event, Coach Carmen Falcone's matmen finished out the season on an even 3-3 record.

Taking decisive victories from Wake Forest and U.N.C. in home matches, the grapplers were beaten with similar decisiveness by Maryland's A.C.C. champs on the same mats. In away contests they took State but lost to Virginia and Washington and Lee.

Outstanding throughout the season along with McElhanev were Bill Melfert in the 147-pound class, who went undefeated until the Tourney, and Sam Menefee and George Esposito who also took runner-up spots in the championship matches.

SWIMMING

In his 25th year as swimming coach, "Jack" Persons produced another third place finish for Duke mermen. With a +2 conference record, Duke again placed behind the two perennial A.C.C. powerhouses, Carolina and State.

The '56-'57 season was an odd one for the Blue Devils. They started off by losing five meets in a row: to State, Carolina, Georgia Tech, Army, and Navy. Then, they did a complete about face and won their last six meets, beating Maryland, Clemson, Wake Forest, South Carolina, The Citadel, and Virginia. A third place finish in the A.C.C. meet at Chapel Hill ended the year for Duke.

Losing only co-captains Jack Roberts and Don Kempler, Duke should be strong in '58.

On your mark... get set... BANG! and he'll go.

Captain Bobby Green's confidence doesn't appear to rub off on coach Whit Cobb, who looks somewhat skeptical.

TENNIS

Facing a tough sixteen game schedule, the Duke tennis team posted a 9-7 record. Only one of the defeats was suffered in A.C.C. competition, that one coming at the hands of Carolina, the conference champion. The team's 6-1 A.C.C. record was good for second place. Captain Bobby Green took individual singles honors in the A.C.C. championships at the end of the year.

Green and John Kopf were the only seniors on coach Whit Cobb's young squad, but their loss by graduation is a definite handicap to the '57 team. The remaining four places on the '56 squad were filled by Leif Beck, Don Romhilt, Jack Williams, and Ben Few.

GOLF

With only Bob Ruffini and Terry Thomas returning as lettermen, Coach "Dumpy" Hagler's golf squad had a hard time keeping its head above water in the won-lost department, with match results ranging from a 23-4 victory over Maryland to a close 15-12 defeat in Tarheel hands, although some fine individual playing sparked the season, and the linksmen closed the year capturing third place in A.C.C. ranks through the annual conference tournament.

Thomas, a junior, continued as number one man throughout most of the season and came through with a 148 for 36 holes in the A.C.C. tournament, while senior Reggie Chapman tied for seventh place in this event with 147. Rounding out the sextet for most of the Spring were senior Ruffini who chanced to collect a hole-in-one along his way juniors Bill Beeson and Ward King, and ace sophomore Dick Risley.

Dressed for the warm weather, coach I. P. "Dumpy" Hagler talks over a match.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

This year, as always, intramural competition in thirteen sports played a major role in Duke's athletic program. The contests between fraternity, independent, and freshmen teams, although they lacked skill and finesse, were just as hard fought and as exciting as varsity games.

Under the direction of senior Jim Gilbert, the intramural program provided an outlet for the sports ability of all Duke students, undergraduate and graduate.

In the '55-'56 season, the KA's won the coveted high point trophy, and the Beta's Warren Hagen won the individual trophy. The Phi Deltas were '56 football champs, and the KA's took the '57 basketball honors.

W.A.A. BOARD

The Board of the Woman's Athletic Association, composed of the elected executive council, representatives of the dormitories and Hanes House, the sport heads and club presidents, organized the athletic program on East Campus and promoted enthusiasm in its varied activities. Beginning its duties Freshman Week, the Board sponsored a picnic to introduce the physical education department and the W.A.A. to incoming students. Aside from scheduling dormitory, sorority, and individual tournaments, the Association arranged sports days with other colleges, a high school play day, an intercampus swimming meet, and the Friday night open houses.

NEREIDIAN

Headed by President Katherine Baringer, the Nereidian Club presented its annual water ballet on February 28 and March 2. After selecting new members in November through competitive try-outs, the girls practiced each week to perfect the synchronized swimming and water stunts to be used in "Island Interlude," a colorful cruise to the islands of the tropics. After intensive rehearsals as showtime neared, fifty swimmers performed for their audiences skillful float formations and intricate swimming patterns while an expert trio and solo were also featured. Spectacular lighting and an island atmosphere complete with palm trees, coconuts, and grass skirts added to the lush, exotic pageant.

MODERN DANCE CLUB

To improve dance techniques and to study choreography was the principal aim of the Modern Dance Club this past year. Working under president Beverly Sparkes, the group held tryouts for new members each semester. The small nucleus of advanced dancers met weekly with the inexperienced initiates to help them develop poise and individual interpretation.

Concentrating on the rhythm drummed out by their instructor, the members of the modern dance club practice some basic movements.

Bowling classes rate high in popularity on East Campus. Bowling is an intramural sport, with both sorority and dormitory competition giving the girls a chance to practice.

WOMEN'S INTRAMURALS

The intramural program organized by the Woman's Athletic Association offered coeds and nurses a multitude of diverse athletic activities.

Team tournaments in volleyball, basketball, softball, and bowling were set up for inter-dormitory and intersorority competition. Individual tournaments included freshman and all-college tennis, badminton, table tennis, and archery matches.

Fall and spring dormitory swimming meets served to round out the full schedule as well as participation in the National Telegraphic Bowling Tournament.

In addition to the team and individual competition, the Basketball, Tennis, and Hockey

Clubs were sponsored by the W.A.A. These groups were composed of Duke women particularly interested in these sports who practiced together in order to challenge teams from other colleges in the state.

Climaxing the year's activities, trophies were awarded to the dormitory and sorority winner of each sport. Special trophies were presented to the dormitory and sorority accumulating the greatest number of points for taking either first, second, or third place in the various tournaments.

Winners of individual competitions had their names added to a record of previous winners on engraved plaques. On the basis of a point system, recognition of those demonstrating outstanding ability and participation in athletics was given in the form of W.A.A. certificates and gold keys.

The Order of Saint Patrick in the School of Engineering is an organization whose purpose is to recognize students showing a high standard of leadership and character in extra-curricular activities. Each semester a ceremony is held in which worthy students are tapped. After a brief pledgeship, they become members of the fraternity. This year the monthly meetings of the Order were under the direction of President George E. Bouse.

Tau Beta Pi, the Phi Beta Kappa of engineering, is a national honorary fraternity organized to give recognition to engineering students who are outstanding in scholarship and character. The honorary was founded nationally in 1885 and N. C. Gamma Chapter was organized at Duke in 1948. Meetings are held bi-weekly.

To qualify for membership one must be either in the upper one-eighth of the junior class or the upper one-fifth of the senior class. Each October the chapter sends a delegate to the national convention. In the spring and fall a joint initiation banquet is held with N. C. State. Together with the Order of Saint Patrick, Tau Beta Pi sponsors a series of slide rule lectures. The society does specialized projects for the College of Engineering and also presents an annual award to an outstanding freshman engineer.

PI TAU SIGMA

Pi Tau Sigma is an honorary fraternity for mechanical engineers. Members are selected from the top fourth of the junior class and the top third of the senior class on the basis of scholastic achievements, character, citizenship, and professional interest. Pi Tau Sigma purposes to develop in mechanical engineering students the attributes necessary for effective leadership and acceptance of responsibility, to promote the professional welfare of its members, and to foster the high ideals of the engineering field. The fraternity gives an annual award to the outstanding sophomore in mechanical engineering and also to the senior who presents the best paper in class work or professional society competition and shows exceptional interest in the extra-curricular activities of the engineering college. Each spring the members take part in the Engineer's Show.

SIGMA DELTA PI

Sigma Delta Pi, Duke's Spanish honorary society, has three objectives: to create wider knowledge and deeper appreciation for Spanish contributions to culture, to work toward better relations among the Spanish and English-speaking nations, and to award those who have shown special merit and interest in Spanish studies. Qualifications for membership include a "B" average in all Spanish courses and an overall "B" average.

In addition to bi-monthly meetings and various lectures throughout the year, the club sponsors an initiation banquet, Christmas fiesta, spring dinner, picnic, and dance. Under the direction of Dr. Castellano the group practices Spanish conversation.

Robert Morgan
President of Delta Phi Alpha

The purpose of Delta Phi Alpha is to promote the study of German language, literature, and civilization and to emphasize those aspects of German life and culture of universal value. The German honorary was headed this year by Robert Morgan, president, and Professor Herman Salinger, faculty advisor. At the Chapel Hill dinner meetings held throughout the year, the students, striving to perfect the language, spoke only German, much to the amazement of the other customers. A lecture by Dr. Wolfgang Taraba on the culture of Munster, Germany, marked a highlight for the organization this year. A student must maintain an overall "C" average, and have a "B" average in German studies to qualify for membership.

TAU PSI OMEGA

Tau Psi Omega, Duke's French Honorary Society, stimulates interest in the French language through such media as conversations, lectures, meetings, open-houses, and moving pictures. Tau Psi Omega presented the annual French play and brought its members together in such activities as dramatic readings and productions. Those who have a "B" average in French, an interest in French culture, and are able to speak fluently are eligible for membership. An initiation dinner at the home of the Dows and occasional meetings in Chapel Hill at the Rathskeller were highlights of the year. Weekly dinner meetings were also held.

President of Pi Mu Epsilon

PI MU EPSILON

Pi Mu Epsilon, Duke University's mathematics honorary fraternity, was installed on campus in 1932. Its purpose is two-fold: to promote scholarship, and to promote interest in the field of mathematics. Those who wish to join must pass membership requirements, requiring students to have a "B" average in all mathematics courses through integral calculus. Pi Mu Epsilon meets twice each year, in the fall and in the spring. At each of these meetings the club sponsors outstanding speakers in the mathematics field. Students who pass the entrance requirements are initiated into the honorary in both the first and the second semester. Pi Mu Epsilon also tries to prepare the members for their future careers.

DELTA PHI RHO ALPHA

Each spring at the annual awards assembly seven rising junior and senior women are tapped into Delta Phi Rho Alpha, honorary athletic fraternity. Membership is attained by actively participating in sports and consistently demonstrating good sportsmanship. The girls meet the requirements by taking part in both sorority and dormitory intramurals. This year's group, led by its president, Arline Schmidt, has been occupied with promoting athletic interest on the campus. Delta Phi Rho Alpha does not hold regular meetings but encourages members to participate in school athletic programs. Annually a gold "D" key is awarded to the senior who has done the most to promote interest and participation in athletics among Duke women.

Gould, C. Cobb. Third row: V. SeGrasso, L. Banzek, R. Posthumus, R. Klinc, B. Bottoms, R. Burton, D. Sedlack (president).

VARSITY "D" CLUB

Those who have become official letter winners in any Duke sport and are in good standing with the athletic department are eligible for membership in the Varsity "D" Club. Under the guidance of Coaches James Bly, Albert Buchler, and Whit Cobb, the club has attained its goal of promoting unity among athletes and stimulating student body interest in the sports program.

The club meets every two weeks, and it is the custom for the members to wear their letter sweaters the day after a meeting. Varsity "D" Club sponsors the Blue-White football and basketball games. Among the other social activities of the club are a Christmas party and the Fall and Spring Letterman Banquets. Ushering at athletic events and presenting training films of all sports are two of the club's most important services. At the end of each season the club presents the letters to those who have earned them.

Charles Chewning
President of Alpha Kappa Psi

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Alpha Kappa Psi was founded at Duke University in 1904. Its purpose is to further the interests and achievements in the field of commerce and business administration.

The monthly dinner meetings, headed this year by Charlie Chewning, president, featured outstanding business and industrial speakers. Bi-monthly industrial tours are among the highlighted activities of the fraternity, along with campus surveys and assistance in the job placement bureau with student placement. They also participated in a national convention last September.

A student must express a firm intention of securing his degree in the business field and maintain a "C" average to qualify for the honorary. The AKP Key is awarded to the male senior student with the highest average in the Department of Economics and Business Administration. A Civil Award is made to an outstanding person in the department.

THE ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The Arnold Air Society is a nationally organized professional service honorary for advanced A.F.R.O.T.C. cadets who hope to become future leaders in the United States Air Force. The club, having been established only five years ago at Duke, is comparatively new. Besides being outstanding in leadership and scholarship, cadets have to show a great interest in the A.F.R.O.T.C. unit and its objectives in order to qualify for membership in the society.

Under the able direction of Cadet Lt. Colonel Richard Ulrich, the group sponsored a little league football team in Durham during the fall months, and throughout the school year, they gave their strong backing to several local and campus charity drives. At their bimonthly meetings the chapter heard many interesting lectures and discussed the varied phases of the Air Force program.

EDITOR'S ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

No job, regardless of how large or how insignificant, would be complete until all who had contributed their time, their talents, and their patience had been heartily thanked by the one to whom they had so unselfishly lent their assistance.

To say that this the 1957 CHANTICLEER is a product of one mind would be a most uninformed interpretation of the facts, for this year's annual truly represents the combined efforts of many talented people. People like Karil Newman, my secretary who so efficiently handled the details of the office; Bernie Goldstein who finally mastered the proportion rule; Gay Wood who photographed the fraternity groups; Ginger Bowles who did an incomparable job with the captions (I never did figure out her filing system, but it was amazingly accurate); Billy Jean Holman whose copy worked out to the letter; Frank Preissle who, in my estimation, produced a sports section second to none in the history of the CHANTICLEER; Joe Sears who compiled the information for the administration section; Judy Scatter who gave distinction to the honoraries; Lynn Dally, Tom Robins, and Barry Blechman who combined efforts to see that all of the fraternities and sororities were properly represented; Julie Bay who did such an efficient job with the massive organizations section; Jo Moore who completed the endless task of compiling the classes material in record time; Ron Mogel who handled features; Bill Linton who put in many long hours with the new campus polls; and all of the staff photographers who worked so hard taking the pictures that make this book the pictorial review that it is.

But the people to whom I am the most indebted are Marilyn Hildreth who labored so diligently purely for the love of the book in seeing that the copy and captions were properly coordinated; Laird Slade who doubled as photo director and head photographer, and who did a most efficient job in these two departments; and last, but far from least, Jennie Holt and Marilyn Lyon who served both as advisors and builders of morale. It was they who kept me from going off on too many tangents and who offered the much appreciated encouragement when it was most needed. Without them the 1957 CHANTICLEER would never have been published.

While most of the photographs appearing in this year's annual were taken by Laird Slade and his staff, numerous others were derived from other sources. To Time Inc., and Bill Vandivert for the color shot of the interior of the chapel; to Thad Sparks, University Photographer, who placed at our disposal many pictures which were impossible for us to take; to Mike Perry for his opening photograph in the introductory section; to Leonard Kamsler for his sports coverage and division page photography; to Whitley and Scott for the sorority group pictures and the individual photographs of the members of Santa Filomena and Old Trinity Club; and to the Garnet and Black, yearbook of the University of South Carolina, I express my most sincere appreciation.

There were many others without whom my task could not have been completed with such relative ease: Mr. Joseph Hardison and the Edwards and Broughton Co.; Mr. Walter Dargan and Miss Doris Leeper of the Southern Photo Process Engraving Co.; Mr. Robert T. Wilson and the Kingscraft Cover Co.; Mr. James T. Colonna and the Colonna Studios; Mr. G. C. Hendricksen, Dr. Herbert Herring, Mr. William Griffith, and Mr. William Strayhorn.

In order to complete this list of acknowledgements, mention must be made of my business manager Bruce Hyldahl and his excellent staff; the brothers of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity; Ritz Ray; my parents; and most of all my wife Nancy, whose most kind understanding, constant encouragement, and deepest devotion stood as an unyielding inspiration for which I am eternally grateful.

To all I owe a debt which cannot be repaid except through feeble words of gratitude. With the deepest sincerity, I thank you.

BUCK TAYMAN

This book was printed in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-seven, in Raleigh, North Carolina, by the Edwards & Broughton Co. using Janson monotype, on Lustrogloss paper, manufactured by the S. D. Warren Paper Co. at Cumberland, Maine. All photo-engravings were made by the Southern Photo Process Engraving Co. at Atlanta, Georgia, and it is bound in covers made by Kingsport Press at Kingsport, Tennessee.
